WILSON'S FINAL MESSAGE PLEADS FOR ECONOMY

Police Forbid Oakland As Refuge for Gangsters of S. F.

S. F. JAILS VAGRANTS

MURDER IS CHARGED TO GANGSTERS

Boyd, Valento and Fitts Are Indicted for Killing Three Officers; Underworld of S. F. Flees From Police Net

Confessed Slayer, Shot By Slain Sleuth, Repeats His Story of Killing; He Is Expected to Survive Wound

SANTA ROSA, Dec. 7.—Two hours after it convened today, the Sonoma county grand jury returned true bills charging murder in the first degree against George Boyd, Charles Valento and Terrence Fitts, the three men present Sunday when Sheriff Petray and Detectives Jackson and Dorman were killed.

Here are new high lights in war on gangsters who have made mockery of law:

Gangsters and understrives, sent and frightened out of San Francisco, will not be allowed to congregate in Oakland, according to declarations of Commissioner F. E. Morse and Acting Chief of Police James F. Drew.

Police are looking to the funeral services of Sheriff Petray at Healdsburg this afternoon to apply the real test as to the possibility of another mob demonstration. Extra guards are on hand to prevent violence after the services and at Santa Rosa tonight.

Folsom penitentiary officials disclose the fact that George Boyd, slayer of Petray, Jackson and Dorman, served two terms at that penitentiary, totalling ten years.

The State legislature will be asked to take action to change the present system of probation, according to Charles Morrill, head of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification at Sacramento.

San Jose, Richmond, Martinez, Sacramento and many other California cities take steps to prevent influx of San Francisco's understrives.

Prizefighting has been stopped in San Francisco, and probably will be in Sacramento, as a result of the alleged connection of the gangsters with the prizefight game. Oakland considers regulations to bar boxers who have no other employment.

Undesirables ordered or frightened from San Francisco by the comprehensive police clean-up in that city will be asked to make their hang-out in Oakland.

This world, given out today by Commissioner F. E. Morse and seconded by Acting Chief of Police James Drew, has been ordered to keep the members of the police force in the line of orders which will mean an unusually sharp watch of incoming trains and ferries, a close investigation of the postrooms and soft drink parlors and the questioning of every suspicious appearing man.

Those who cannot account for their presence in the city or the manner in which they make their living will be hooked for vagrancy or ordered to move out of the city, loitering on the street corners is not to be allowed and a system similar to that being employed across the bay will be put into effect.

THANGING IS THREATENED VAGRANTS

With a view of breaking up any gangs or gang spirit plain clothes men have been ordered to keep watch on the hang-out places of young men and the word is passed that no leniency will be shown to those who are arrested. Should a large number of gangsters be taken in, Commissioner Morse said, they will be put on the chain-gang so that the public may see what manner of men they are.

Concerning the steps that are being taken, Commissioner Morse said:

"The gangsters are not to find a harbor here. Our first step will be taken against the postrooms which cater to the low class of trade and about which we have found the lowest dregs of humanity, dope fiends, criminals and desperate men who will not work."

Leading Lights In Booze Scandal Begin Their Trial

Brolaski, Gamage, Newton Scan Faces of Panel to Decide Their Fate

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Before a crowd of spectators which filled to overflowing the United States District Court, presided over by Federal Judge Morris T. Dooling, the trial of Harry Brolaski, Douglas Newton and Jules Gamage began today, under indictment charging them with conspiring illegally to traffic in whisky taken from government bonded warehouses.

The defendants appeared in court early accompanied by their staff of four legal advisors, taking seats at a table at one side of the court. A few feet distant at another table sat U. S. Attorney Frank Silva and Assistant U. S. Attorneys Benjamin Geis and H. McMillan. The government's case will be handled almost entirely by Silva.

Other persons who have been indicted in connection with the so-called booze ring expose were in court. Among them Mrs. Glad Kimball Warburton, who occupied a seat directly behind the chair in which was seated Brolaski.

The defendants exchanged smiles of amusement when H. A. Dodds, warehouse owner and the first talesman examined, announced emphatically that he was opposed to the prohibition law. Under cross-examination, however, he admitted this prejudice would not prevent him from rendering a just verdict.

Witnesses for the defense were excused by the court until tomorrow morning when Silva announced that in all probability today's entire session will be devoted to obtaining a jury.

The jury will not be selected until tomorrow, according to the belief expressed this afternoon. Attorneys Maxwell McNeill and Hugo Asher for the defense have made it plain that they will insist that the charge is not for violating the prohibition law but to violate a Federal law.

A cause for the delay is that most of the prospective jurors admit a prejudice against the prohibition measure. There are indications that the defense plans to attack the credibility of certain witnesses for the prosecution.

Postmaster Is Charged With Robbery, Arson

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—William Fox, postmaster at Dorris, Siskiyou county, confessed today to postal inspectors that he had doubled the insurance on the post office at Dorris and had taken a registered envelope containing $5,000 in currency and then set fire to the building a month ago, when he was arrested today at Klamath Falls in connection with the crime.

Details of Fox's theft of the money and the subsequent arson were received in San Francisco today at the office of the postal inspector, in telegrams from the inspectors who arrested Fox at Klamath Falls. According to the messages, Fox has confessed. Fox is quoted as having told the inspectors that on November 7, he had attended a wedding in San Francisco to a bank at Dorris, a general store in which the postoffice was located, ostensibly to obtain some old papers with which to start a fire in his home. It is said, however, Fox set fire to the store to cover the theft of $5,000 in currency which he had removed from a registered envelope and which had been sent through the mails from a bank in San Francisco to a bank at Dorris. A short time prior to setting the building on fire, Fox had doubled his insurance.

When taken into custody Fox had in his possession $240. He is to be taken to Red Bluff, where he will be given a hearing before a United States commissioner.

'DISARM OR NO TRUCE IN IRELAND'

—BONAR LAW
Ultimatum Delivered in House of Commons to Sinn Feiners By Government Spokesman Is Received With Cheers

Proposals as to Peace Terms Sent From Irish Leaders Reach London While Raids and Fighting Still Reported

LONDON, Dec. 7.—(By the Associated Press).—Andrew Bonar Law, the government spokesman, declared emphatically amidst cheers in the House of Commons today that he was "convinced there can be no truce, or successful advocacy of a truce, in Ireland until the extreme leaders of the Irish Republican Army there either surrender and deliver their arms or are arrested."

BEARER OF TRUCE FLAG ARRIVES
By WEBB MILLER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
LONDON, Dec. 7.—Arthur Henderson, bearer of a truce flag, was to present Sinn Fein proposals to the British government today.

Henderson, British labor leader, came direct from Ireland, where he talked with Sinn Fein leaders. Other important intermediaries hastened back and forth with peace messages. No flat declaration that a truce is pending was made by authorities on either side, but the atmosphere was clearly one of hope.

At the same time, there were indications that fighting will continue, to the hour of armistice—if it comes. The government continued to raid and arrest Sinn Fein terrorists continued their campaign of ambush.

Last night a lorry load of police bearing Brandon was surprised in the darkness by attackers hidden in the bushes. The police hastily took cover, apparently without injuries to any of them. They were rescued shortly afterward by soldiers attracted by the gunfire.

PRESIDENT NOW URGES BUDGET SYSTEM

WILSON'S MESSAGE FAVORS ECONOMY, REVISED TAX LAWS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The text of President Wilson's message to Congress was as follows:

Gentlemen of Congress: When I addressed myself to performing the duty laid upon the President by the Constitution to present to you an annual report of the state of Union, I found my thought dominated by an immortal sentence of Abraham Lincoln's: "Let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it."

A sentence immortal because it embodies in a form of utter simplicity and purity the essential faith of the nation, the faith in which it was conceived and the faith in which it has grown to glory and power. With that faith and the birth of a nation founded upon it came the hope into the world that a new order would prevail throughout the affairs of mankind, an order in which reason and right would take precedence of covetousness and force, and I believe that I express the wish and purpose of every thoughtful American when I say that this sentence marks for us in the plainest manner the part we should play alike in the arrangement of our domestic affairs and in our exercise of influence upon the affairs of the world. By this faith, and by this faith alone, can the world be lifted out of its present confusion and despair. It was this faith which prevented over the wicked forces of Germany. You will remember that the beginning of the end of the war came when the German people found themselves face to face with the conscience of the world and realized that right was everywhere arrayed against the wrong that their government was attempting to perpetrate. I think, therefore, that it is true to say that this was the faith which won the war. Certainly this is the faith with which our gallant men went into the field and out upon the seas to make sure of victory.

DECLARATION OF DEMOCRACY
STOIC PROPHETRY
This is the mission upon which democracy came into the world. Democracy is an assertion of the right of the individual to live and to be treated justly as against any attempt on the part of any combination of individuals to make laws which will overburden him or which will destroy his equality among his fellows in the matter of right or privilege, and I think we all realize that the day has come when democracy is being put upon its final test. The old world is just now suffering from a wanton rejection of the principle of democracy and a substitution of the principle of autocracy as asserted in the name but without the authority and sanction of the multitude. This is the time of all others when democracy should prove its purity and its spiritual power to prevail. It is surely the manifest destiny of the United States to lead in the attempt to make this spirit prevail.

There are two ways in which the United States can assist to accomplish this great object: First, by offering the example within her own borders of the faith and power of democracy to make and enforce laws which are unquestionably just and which are equal in their administration; laws which secure its full right to labor and yet at the same time safeguard the integrity of property and particularly of that property which is devoted to the development of industry and the increase of the necessary wealth of the world.

Second, by standing for right and justice as toward individual nations. The law of democracy is for the protection of the weak and the influence of every democracy in the world should be for the protection of the weak nation. The nation which is struggling toward its right and its justice toward individual nations, which is proper recognition and privilege in the family of nations. The United States cannot refuse this weak nation without putting the stigma of rejection upon the great and devoted men who brought its government into existence and established it in the face of almost universal opposition and intrigue, even in the face of war, and which is a simple appropriation of that property which is devoted to the development of industry and the increase of the necessary wealth of the world.

So, then, by standing for right and justice as toward individual nations, the law of democracy is for the protection of the weak and the influence of every democracy in the world should be for the protection of the weak nation. The nation which is struggling toward its right and its justice toward individual nations, which is proper recognition and privilege in the family of nations. The United States cannot refuse this weak nation without putting the stigma of rejection upon the great and devoted men who brought its government into existence and established it in the face of almost universal opposition and intrigue, even in the face of war, and which is a simple appropriation of that property which is devoted to the development of industry and the increase of the necessary wealth of the world.

President Wilson Will Be Awarded Nobel Peace Prize

(By Associated Press)
COPENHAGEN, Dec. 7.—An announcement is made that the Nobel peace prize will be conferred on President Wilson of the United States on December 10.

The Nobel peace prize carries with it a grant of about $40,000, which is one-fifth of the annual interest on about $9,000,000 left for that purpose by Alfred B. Nobel, the Swedish scientist and the inventor of dynamite, who died in 1896.

The only two Americans who have in the past received the Nobel peace prize were Theodore Roosevelt in 1906 and Elihu Root in 1912.

President Wilson Will Be Awarded Nobel Peace Prize

It seems to me we ought to attempt, to assist that recovery and prove the indisputable recuperative force of a great government of the people. One of these is to prove that a great democracy can keep house as successfully and in as businesslike a fashion as any other government. It seems to me that the first step toward proving this is to supply ourselves with a systematic method of handling our estimates and expenditures and bringing them to the point where they will not be an unnecessary strain upon our income or necessitate unreasonable taxation, in other words, a workable budget system, and I respectfully suggest that two elements are essential to such a system, namely, not only that the proposal of appropriations should be in the hands of a single body such as a single appropriations committee in each house of the Congress, but also that this body should be brought into such co-operation with the departments of the government and with the treasury of the United States as would enable it to act upon a complete conspectus of the needs of the government and the resources from which it must draw its income.

DECLARATION OF VICTORY
I reluctantly voted the budget bill passed by the last session of the Congress because of a constitutional objection.

The House of Representatives subsequently modified the bill in order to meet this objection. In the revised form I believe that the bill coupled with the action already taken by the Congress to revise its rules and procedure, furnishes the foundations for an effective national budget system. I earnestly hope, therefore, that one of the first steps taken by the present session of the Congress will be to pass the budget bill.

The nation's finances have shown marked improvement during the past year. The total ordinary revenues of $2,544,000,000 for the fiscal year 1920 exceed those for 1919 by $1,242,000,000, while the total net ordinary expenditures decreased from $2,574,000,000 in 1919 to $1,332,000,000 in 1920. The greatest reduction, which reached its highest point on August 31, 1919, when it was $2,556,000,000, had dropped on November 30, 1919, to $2,412,000,000. There has also been a marked decrease in holdings of government war securities by the banking institutions of the country, as well as in the amount of bills held by the Federal reserve banks secured by government war obligations.

FINANCIAL TO FINANCE
NEEDS OF AGRICULTURE
This fortunate result has relieved the banks and left them free to finance the needs of agriculture, industry and commerce. It has been due in large part to the reduction of the public debt, especially the floating debt, but more particularly to the improved distribution of government securities among permanent investors. The cessation of the government's borrowings, except through short-term certificates of indebtedness, has been a matter of great consequence to the people of the country at

'This Time When Democracy Should Prove Its Purity'

The Old World is just now suffering from a wanton rejection of the principle of democracy and a substitution of the principle of autocracy as asserted in the name, but without the authority and sanction of the multitude. This is the time of all others when democracy should prove its purity and its spiritual power to prevail. It is surely the manifest destiny of the United States to lead in the attempt to make this spirit prevail.—From President Wilson's message.

In the Senate arrival of the White House messenger with an armful of communications, including some 17,000 recess and other appointments, and with the announcement, "several messages in writing from the President," caused laughter on the floor. Debate on farmers' relief measures was in progress, and it was half an hour before the clerk began reading the President's message, senators following the reading from printed copies placed in their hands.

REBATE LIMITED ON JOHNSON BILL
The House rules committee reported today a special rule limiting to four hours debate on the Johnson bill to prohibit immigration for a period of two years or preparation of a treaty to be approved, and "Chairman Campbell," Republican, Kansas, announced he would call the rule up for action Thursday.

Senator Lodge today refused to let the Senate consider the resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to revive the war finance corporation at once as a means of helping farmers find markets for their products.

PRESIDENT KEPT FROM ATTENDING

At Last Moment Wilson Yields to Wishes of His Physician and Consents to Remain Away From Capital

Reference Not Made to the League of Nations or Peace Treaty Except by Inference, One Paragraph Valedictory

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADING WIRE TO TRIBUNE
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President-Elect Harding called at the White House this afternoon.

Senator Harding did not see the President. He drove to the north entrance and left his card.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Calling attention to the fact that the United States is the "sample democracy" of the world, and as such is constantly under world scrutiny, President Wilson in his last Congressional message today urged upon Congress the duty of making this nation the champion of right and justice in world affairs. Only by rectifying wrongs within our own borders and championing the right wherever it is in danger, the President pointed out, can the United States fulfill its destiny and keep faith with the fathers of the republic.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS NOT REFERRED TO
At the last moment, President Wilson yielded to the wishes of his physician and did not attempt to go to the Capitol and deliver the message in person before a joint session of the two houses. Instead, a few minutes before noon, the message was transmitted to each house separately and there was read to the members.

Nowhere did the President refer to the League of Nations or the peace treaty, except perhaps by inference in his opening when he quoted Abraham Lincoln's "let us have faith that right makes might and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it."

At its close the President wrote a paragraph which might be regarded as a valedictory, saying:

"I have not so much laid before you a series of recommendations as sought to utter a confession of faith of the faith to stand by until my last fighting day. I believe this to be the faith of America, the faith of the future, and I believe that the days to come, whether in America or elsewhere."

The House listened to the reading of the message in silence until it was concluded when the Democrats arose and applauded.

There was some applause also from the galleries, where crowds had gathered in anticipation of the President's message. The President's message was read in progress, and it was half an hour before the clerk began reading the President's message, senators following the reading from printed copies placed in their hands.

MEASURES ARE AGAIN URGED FOR ACTION. Permit me to emphasize once more the need for action upon certain matters upon which I dwell at some length in my message to the second session of the Sixty-sixth Congress. The necessity for example of encouraging the manufacture of goods and related chemicals; the importance of doing everything possible to promote agricultural production along economic lines to make rural life more attractive and healthful; the need for a law regulating cold storage in such a way as to limit the time during which goods may be kept in storage, prescribing the method of disposing of them if kept beyond the permitted period and requiring goods released from storage in all cases to be of the date of their receipt. It would also be most serviceable if it were provided that all goods released from cold storage for interstate shipments should be plainly marked with the price at which they went into storage, in order that the purchaser might be able to learn what profits stood between him and the producer or the wholesale dealer. I respectfully call your attention also to the recommendations of the message referred to with regard to a federal license for all corporations engaged in interstate commerce, the need of the time is the removal of all obstacles to the realization of the best ambitions of our people in their several classes of employment and the strengthening of all industrial activities by which difficulties are to be met and removed, and justice

The nation's gratitude be effectively rendered to them in the most ample provision for medical care and treatment as a part of their vocational training placement. The time has come when a more complete program should be formulated and more satisfactorily administered for their aid and training and I earnestly urge that the Congress give the highest consideration to the problem of the Treasury and the of Vocational Education will

Specific Appropriations Needed Necessity for Economy Is Told

In urging a deep cut in public expenses Wilson said: I cannot over-emphasize the necessity of economy in government appropriations and expenditures and the avoidance by the Congress of practices which take money from the treasury by indefinite or revolving fund appropriations. The estimates for the present year show that over a billion dollars of expenditures were authorized by the Congress in addition to the amounts shown in the usual compiled statements of appropriations. This strikingly illustrates the importance of making direct and specific appropriations. The relation between the current receipts and current expenditures of the government during the present fiscal year, as well as during the last half of the last fiscal year, has been disturbed by the extraordinary burdens thrown upon the treasury by the transportation act, in connection with the return of the railroads to private control. Over $600,000,000 has already been paid to the railroads under this act—$350,000,000 during the present fiscal year; and it is estimated that further payments aggregating possibly $650,000,000 must still be made to the railroads during the current year. It is obvious that these large payments have already seriously limited the government's progress in retiring the floating debt.

Wilson Finally Persuaded Not To Read Message

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President Wilson insisted upon reading his last message to Congress up to within a few minutes before the document was sent to Capitol Hill. Dr. Grayson stated this afternoon. Dr. Grayson continued to advise against the President appearing in Congress and finally, shortly before 12 o'clock, the President accepted his advice and said he would "go soldier" and accept his physician's advice against his own wishes.

Petray Funeral Procession Large

The funeral procession which left Santa Rosa for Healdsburg this noon, and which the body of Sheriff Petray, is declared in dispatches to have been one of the most remarkable corteges ever witnessed in the state. Early in the day automobiles from all the nearby places began to arrive and mourners from all over the countryside and from all walks of life. Sheriff Frank Barnett of Alameda county and Undersheriff R. E. Fene of Contra Costa county motored to Healdsburg and arrived before noon. The cortege was due at Healdsburg at 3 o'clock where services are planned at the Episcopal church. Throughout the day messages and floral tokens arrived at the courthouse from all parts of the state. One from Governor Stephens read: "Mrs. Stephens joins me in heartfelt sympathy in this hour of your great bereavement. Mrs. A. Petray was a good citizen; a splendid officer and an upright man."

Detective M. V. Burke Badly Hurt By Car

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Detective Sergeant Michael V. Burke, one of the best known members of the Central station bureau, suffered serious injuries to his leg when he was hit by an electric car at Eddy and Jones streets. According to witnesses, Burke stepped from behind one car into the path of another. He was picked up by a passing automobile and taken to the Central Emergency Hospital, where he was found to have suffered a fractured skull and possible internal injuries. His condition was pronounced serious.

3 Big Meals a Day But Still Thin

Why is it that so many people who eat three hearty meals a day are so thin and emaciated? It is not simply because they require more food, but because they require more food than food alone is able to supply. It is really remarkable what Blood-From-Iron Phosphate can do for people. It strengthens their nerves and enriches their blood, puts the bloom of health into their cheeks and, best of all, it enables them to put on pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Even elderly people who have tried food alone and failed, say, "I feel from ten to twenty years younger and my benefit is as lasting as it is certain." As it is sold under a binding guarantee of satisfaction or money back there can be no reason why it should not go to the head of the class. It is sold by all Drug Co. or any other druggist and get enough Blood-From-Iron Phosphate or a three weeks' test today and you gain that superb energy and fine dominating forcefulness which go hand in hand with success. It costs only $1.00 and you are pleased to find it if you are not delighted. Advertisement.

FIGHT PERMITS REVOKED IN WAR ON S. F. GANGSTERS

There is no place here for the indolent and the tout. "Should the police department be unable to meet the situation I shall not hesitate to petition the council," said the chief. The city must be cleaned of the unspeakable type of gangster such as "Spud" Murphy, Krutovsky and Valenti, not only for the public safety but for the safety of the 200 police officers.

REAL TEST OF MOB EXPECTED

SANTA ROSA, Dec. 7.—Whether or not there is to be another outbreak of community wrath against the gangsters held for the slaying of James Petray of Sonoma county and Detective Miles Jackson and Lester Dorman of San Francisco will be determined within the next few hours.

After a night, which passed quietly but with tension, a high feeling everywhere noticeable, this afternoon and tonight are looked forward to as the real test. Shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon a funeral service will be held for James Petray will be held in Healdsburg where the slain officer had many close friends, friends of the old days, and where it is said resentment against the crime is growing steadily more intense.

Private services were held for Petray at Santa Rosa this noon and the cortege then started for Healdsburg, where public services are to be held at the Episcopal church. GUARDS REINFORCED AT COUNTY JAIL.

"Jimmy Petray was mighty popular at Healdsburg," one Sonoma county official said today. "Around Healdsburg are men who have known and loved him for years. They are quiet, law-abiding men in the outlying parts of Sonoma county, but they are not to be trifled with when aroused." Frankly, I fear for what may happen after the funeral tonight.

Guards were being reinforced today and every precaution taken to protect the prisoners.

George Boyd, who yesterday confessed he did the shooting, was reported in serious condition early today, but was expected to live.

Boyd last night modified his previous alleged confession to the extent of declaring that while he shot Jackson, after that he just shot wildly and didn't know whether he shot anyone else or not, authorities announced.

GRAND JURY TO CONSIDER MURDER

The county grand jury will meet today to consider the case. District Attorney Howe announced that he would ask indictments charging Boyd, Terrance Fitts and Charles Valenti with murder. He would use his charge against Boyd as said, on Boyd's alleged confession; against Fitts on Boyd's alleged statement that Fitts furnished him the gun with which the killing was done, and against Valenti on evidence that he, with Boyd, purchased the cartridges for the weapon.

Just why Boyd, after confessing to the shooting of Jackson and a part in the outrages on Howard street, should seek to shield himself from complicity in the shooting of Petray, and Dorman is puzzling the officers, who have discovered the fatal discrepancies in the man's story.

Boyd said Valenti bought the cartridges used in the "revolvers." "Another man was in the room," he said, "and he was shooting, too. I would not be believed if I told you his name." According to Boyd the man was not Lazarus, for whom a search is being made in all parts of the State.

BOY'S GROOMING ADMITS HE LIED

When first taken into custody Boyd said that this other man hid himself in a closet and fired a number of shots. When it was pointed out to him that there was no closet in the room he gradually admitted the falsity of the story. The wounded gangster appears to be suffering intense pain and to be turning over the incidents of the shooting in his mind. It is apparent that the identification of him as one of the Howard street gangsters made by the girl victims who came here for that purpose gave him a mental shock from which he has not recovered.

SHERIFF'S SYMPATHIZE WITH PETRAY'S WIDOW

Today everyone is paying a silent tribute to the men who died fighting for the preservation of the law. Flags are at half mast, there is little attention to business and some of the stores are closed. Many from this city will attend the services in Healdsburg this afternoon and the talk on the streets here is all of what may happen in Healdsburg tonight. Extra guards, it is said, have been sent to that city not only from Santa Rosa but from San Francisco and elsewhere.

A telegram was received by Mrs. Petray today from the California Sheriff's Association. It read: "California Sheriff's Association sends you the deepest sympathy. California has lost a good sheriff, a good citizen and you a good husband." "FRANK BARNETT, President. "R. R. YEALD, Secretary."

S. F. Fight Permits Revoked by Chief

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—The boxing game was dead in San Francisco today.

Association of men connected with boxing activities with Howard street gangsters, nine of whom today were under indictment for horrible crimes against women, caused the police commissioners today to issue orders revoking all permits and instructing that no more be issued.

The grand jury, which last night returned indictments against four of the Howard street gang, including George Boyd, who shot and killed three officers at Santa Rosa, and Peter Valenti, held at Santa Rosa for complicity in murder, also took up an investigation of the boxing game, which has been conducted.

is understood, has been asked by Premier Lloyd George to sound out Sinn Fein sentiment, and prepare, if possible, the ground on which a foundation for the peace edifice can be reared.

MRS. MOWINEX GOES TO WASHINGTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Following an all night Archbishop's Mass and luncheon with Eamon de Valera, president of the Irish republic, Mrs. Terence MacSwiney, widow of the martyred lord mayor of Cork, was to leave at 2 o'clock today for Washington. Tomorrow she expected to give evidence before the committee there which is seeking to ascertain facts about the Irish armistice.

Speaking of reported efforts of Premier Lloyd George to gain peace in Ireland before Christmas, Mrs. MacSwiney said there was only one manner in which Lloyd George and England could attain that. "That is by giving Ireland freedom and withdrawing the armed forces of invasion," she said. "No other peace overture can even be considered."

CIVILIAN KILLED BY SOLDIERS

DUBLIN, Dec. 7.—A civilian was shot dead by British soldiers in the conductive to creation of the gang spirit. It was also pointed out that the money obtained from this source enabled a vicious class to live lives of comparative ease.

Edmund ("Spud") Murphy, already under indictment in connection with the Howard street outrages, and Daniel Logie were named also in indictments voted early today by the grand jury.

The bodies of Miles Jackson and Lester Dorman, detectives killed at Santa Rosa Sunday, arrived here last night and will be given public honors at the city hall today.

Sacramento is considering stopping boxing exhibitions, following the lead of San Francisco.

"Citizens of the State are taking every precaution to meet the situation exposed by the arrest and arrest of the clean-up of San Francisco. All of the gangsters and undesirable of the larger city are being driven to the more remote parts of the State."

San Jose today warned its police force to be extra watchful. All strangers are being questioned and no loitering is being allowed, and similar precautions are being taken in Richmond, Martinez and other cities.

Engineers Discuss U. S. Waste of Fuel

Save National Park, Is Plea Made by Interior Secretary

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Need of a far-sighted government policy with respect to many of the country's internal affairs is emphasized in the annual report of Secretary Payne, made public at the Interior Department. Lack of a definite aim was said to affect particularly the administration of activities in Alaska, in dealing with the Indian tribes, in preservation of the national parks and forests and again in handling the greater reconstruction problem of maintaining a high agricultural production.

While Payne criticized the uncertainty which he said surrounded many activities, he commended as a strong constructive step the action of Congress in making possible the "super-power survey" of the region between Boston and Washington with a view to the development of a unified system of power generation and distribution. This investigation, made under the direction of the Interior Department, will be completed and the committee's report given to the public about next June, the secretary said, adding that he believed it would deserve public confidence.

PROBLEM IN ALASKA

On the subject of Alaska the secretary said the primal problem was transportation and advocated the operation of a government owned steamer line in order to insure development of the territory's resources. Two lines now serve the region, but Payne indicated their service was not satisfactory. He suggested their consolidation as a means of improving the service, but this apparently was impossible.

The government railroad in Alaska, to be a total of 540 miles in length, will be completed and in operation in 1922, Mr. Payne reported. He added that it tapped fields of untold mineral wealth and praised the work of the engineers in the progress made.

In connection with Secretary Payne's discussion of Alaskan transportation, Governor Riggs, the territorial executive, urged the establishment of a tonnage tax on all shipping to and in the territory and the building up with the fund thus raised of "regular and reasonable service upon equitable rates and schedules." He advocated also government appropriations for the construction of a scheme of highways to serve as feeder wagon roads to the government owned rail lines.

MAIL IS SLOW

The question of communication also is one in which little progress has been made and Governor Riggs informed Payne it was seriously handicapping development. Mail is slow, being shipped as freight express and arriving frequently in badly damaged condition. The governor, however, believes this is offset in a measure by the army cable and naval radio service which he said was being used disproportionately with the mails.

The governor's report declares that intoxicating liquor is finding its way into Alaska from British Columbia in large quantities and "bootlegging seems to be increasing as private stocks of liquor are exhausted." The territory is becoming well known as a menace he said existed. He urged, however, that provisions of the Volstead Act with respect to the use of whiskey for medicinal purposes be extended to Alaska, claiming that "many lives could have been saved had whiskey been available during the emergency of pneumonia and influenza epidemics in the territory."

Of internal problems in the United States Secretary Payne mentions as one of greatest importance the question of domestic reconstruction as related to farming. The secretary cited census figures showing that the rate of increase of population on farms was only one-fifth as great as that of the nation as a whole. He believed this foreshadowed a dangerous condition in the future. "The difficulty," he continued, "is that people do not like to live alone, but prefer to live in towns and villages and enjoy the conveniences and comforts of modern life which are beyond the reach of a scattered population living on large farms. Can this be remedied by the ownership and the formation of neighborhood associations? Small farms bringing the people near together and insuring cultivation of these farms may be the answer."

Secretary Payne advocated passage of the Smoot "rural homes bill," which he said would give the Interior Department an opportunity to do much important work in farming development and to take steps to aid the restoration of farming population through increased land ownership by those who work the land.

Along with the farm life question the secretary took up the activities of the reclamation service of his department. The interest in opportunities on the land, he said, has greatly increased with the demobilization of the fighting forces. The department, although handicapped by lack of funds, has been assembling a large amount of valuable information, which will be of use to the country in the future.

The government had spent to June 30 a total of $125,000,000 on reclamation of land have been made reported, and approximately 2,150,000 acres of land have been made available through the reclamation effort of the government.

The secretary declared that the government should come forward with a comprehensive scheme of reclamation development to meet the "deepest desire of thousands of landless men and women who have become a part of the movement 'forward to the farm.'"

Discussing the Indian question, Payne urged that citizenship be extended to all Indians and said their children should, where possible, be educated with the white children and "encouraged in every way to take part and parcel of our national citizenship."

The policy of issuing fee patents to the Indians for their lands was strenuously opposed by the secretary, who declared that continuing "thus placing them in a position to sell is, in my judgment, fraught with the gravest dangers and will inevitably pauperize thousands." Payne believes that until the Indians are educated and have become accustomed through long experience to dealing with the white people, they should not be permitted to deal with them on "cash terms."

During the last fiscal year the general land office allowed entry of 16,334,491 acres of Indian and other lands.

Discussing the national park system, Payne said that a number of projects involving the use of national park lakes as storage places has been pressed, but that he had opposed them on the ground that it meant the establishment of a precedent which would eventually lead to the commercialization of the national parks.

"If this principle is not recognized," he said, "and commercialization is allowed to creep in, it will be only a question of time until our wild west will be only a memory and the big game of our country will be extinct and these places and objects now so wonderful, will be seriously and permanently injured. The conflict between the demands of commerce and the preservation of these wonder places involves constant vigilance. In my view their preservation is of first importance. It should be a settled policy of the country, regardless of any question of utility that when in the wisdom of Congress national parks or monuments are definitely set apart they must be preserved in their integrity, forever free from any form of commercialization."

Work of the bureau of mines during the year included the extension of assistance at 27 mine accidents, 17 at coal mines and 10 at metal mines. The bureau also trained 10,127 miners in first aid and mine rescue work in the twelve months as compared with 9781 in the previous year. The bureau continued its investigations of ventilation in metal mines of the west with a view to eliminating dangers from rock dust and humidity.

HOUSTON DEFENDS ACTION ON EXPORT LOAN ASPIRATIONS

By W. H. ATKINS,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—On the eve of a hot battle in Congress over farm credits for which a demand has risen from the producing regions, Secretary of the Treasury Houston today defended his course in suspending the export loan operations of the war finance corporation.

As both houses prepared to rush through a resolution "directing" Secretary Houston to revive the war finance body's export functions, Houston laid before Congress the annual report of the corporation's work last year, showing an on-going other items $42,023,641 in government funds already outstanding on export loans.

As chairman of the corporation Secretary Houston revealed that the sum of export loans remaining due is nearly half of the total outstanding loans November 20 last. His report emphasized the reasons for suspending the export finance features, pointing out that exports have steadily increased, giving the United States a topheavy favorable trade balance.

525 FOURTEENTH ST. OAKLAND 825 MARKET STREET SAN FRANCISCO

Does every man want? more than one woman?

How much suffering and unhappiness has been caused by the idea existing among young men that they may conduct themselves AS THEY PLEASE?

As many sweethearts AS THEY CAN GET.

Soothing their conscience with the old balm that the young man is EXPECTED to sow his wild oats.

But once this poison of self-indulgence gets into the blood is it ever going to be wiped out?

Will they be able to settle down and marry and cleave and stick to ONE WOMAN?

In some cases they may, but it is apt to be a difficult job. In most cases the poison once instilled will burn them, body and soul, down to the very socket.

Men and women should walk as gods, upward into the great unknown. With laughter around them. And lute notes, dancing and song. Sunlight, gold light and star light. Music sweeter than all the dreams of all the lovers of all the world.

All your words will be impotent to show the great wrong done the world by the SELFISHNESS of man in his selfish DESIRES.

All your words impotent to tell—to show—as a branding iron upon the hearts of all mankind—that the BEST way in life is the way of ONE MAN FOR ONE WOMAN, as it is shown in that great drama, "WAY DOWN EAST," as translated in D. W. GRIFFITH'S glorified version at YE LIBERTY THEATRE.

Go to see "WAY DOWN EAST." It will do your soul good.

It is shown EVERY AFTERNOON and EVERY EVENING (including Sundays) at YE LIBERTY THEATRE. You MUST see it.

ALL DRUGGISTS SELL IT

Cry on Geraldine's Shoulder

The Forbidden Kiss.

Folks I'm PROUD of you. I've been watching you as this column ambled along, taking in all the scenery on the way. Most columns don't take in ALL the scenery. They just take in choice bits of real estate and avoid the outlying district. But we haven't avoided a thing. These letters are cross sections of REAL life—not life as it was forty years ago, but as it is NOW. And life now is a jumble.

It would be easy for some of you to be shocked, or to preach or sniff or harp on the "good old days." But not once have you done it. You have faced LIFE AS IT IS, and you're trying to solve it strongly and gamely with fairness and humor even if you don't like some parts of it. That's why I'm PROUD OF YOU, MY BIG GANG. If you have "learned from Jerry," as you say, believe me Jerry has also learned from you, and she surely does thank you!

Now here's a letter that gives the most modern angle of a very modern situation. It begins with a dear old friendly boost which Jerry is keeping just to herself, but for which she'd like to hug the writer—and then she goes on:

Married Women in Love With Others' Husbands

"My husband and I are in the early thirties. We have a splendid bunch of friends—young married couples, all moderately educated, moderately well off and lastly—moderately moral. The point of all this that worries me is that, in order to be moderately happy, either the husband or the wife must (in this crowd) be more or less in love with someone else. Now, understand me, Jerry—I know that it isn't carried beyond that. A good bit of love-making, fervent kisses and languishing glances and that sort of thing. Usually the rest of the crowd laughs meaningly, and then in a month there is either a row or they tire of each other and merely 'love another.'"

I was raised to believe that a married person's losses belonged to one person alone, but the women that have talked to me seem to think that without such thrills life would be an awful thing. Don't you think, Jerry, that if the husband or wife would CONCENTRATE on the "other half" that there would be plenty of thrills, or is that impossible? Answer me truly, Jerry, for wouldn't YOU hate to think that the only thrills things left to YOU were when Johnnie spoke his first piece and somebody said that your Betty was the most beautiful child they had ever seen?

I love my husband, Jerry, and I hate to think that he's in this squirrel cage, because Jerry—here's the secret. The I know he loves me, he never makes any love to me! RUTH.

Other Pretty Wives in Same Boat, Says Jerry

Folks that letter is LIFE AS SHE IS. Jerry has pitched her tent in nearly every section of the United States and everywhere, amongst a certain class of young married people, THAT condition prevails. Most of them are not as honest as Ruth—they won't come out and say so. But I'll EAT THE HOLE OUT OF A DOUGHNUT if in a goodly per cent of the bungalows and apartment houses in Oakland hundreds of pretty negligees are not snickering this very second as they read this and think of CHEER latest affair. No gang they're not BAD. Far from it. They're just human and here is the reason for it all as Jerry sees it.

Men and women need adventure. The desire to "do something new" has brought us up from savagery. The people who never experiment, who have no adventure hunger beyond setting themselves in comfort may keep out of all but they add nothing to the Onward March of human life. Ordinary life used to hold sufficient adventure before science stepped in and took our jobs away. The man built his business. The woman built her home. In that building a hundred small crafts were involved—crafts which bred pride and joy and satisfied curiosity. For the "moderately wealthy" moderately educated people of the city that life has passed. The wife does not build her home. She rents a furnished apartment, or a bungalow and has her work done piecemeal thru a dozen mediums. The man does not build his business. Usually he is a dog. When he isn't the business in hand still leaves the Red Hunter in him without satisfaction. His hunting trails are gone, but his blood still boils on.

"Affairs" Are Fruit of the Adventure Craving

And so—we have AFFAIRS, the fruit of that craving for something new to do.

And now I've used all the polite language I'm going to use on this subject. Give me room—I'm going to speak my mind. Listen to me, you Pink Negliges, and don't you make faces at Jerry! She didn't float in with the ark—she knows just as much about those George and Crepe moods as you do! And what I'm going to tell you is TRUE.

IT'S ALL A SILLY BUSINESS. It's silly because it gets you nowhere. What are you going to do when forty comes and you can't massage that double chin away any more and affairs won't come at your dumping? How are you going to fill the empty hours? Listen to me, Girls. I don't blame you one tiniest bit for the restlessness and the curiosity that makes your apartment house life pall on you. BUT I DO BLAME YOU FOR DOING NOTHING MORE EXCITING. WITH YOUR GOD-GIVEN BRAINS, THAN A HAND ORGAN MONKEY MIGHT DO WITH HIS. With the world of adventure at your door with a thousand voices calling, a thousand delights waiting, you can find nothing more wonderful to do than squeeze hands and "roll your eyes."

Get Out of It and Live; Do Something Worth While.

Wake up! Come out of it! This is the 20th Century! Get up and LIVE! Find a REAL adventure for yourself and your husband. Go hunting, fishing, invest in a mule, raise chickens, take an exhibition course—DO ANYTHING that takes you above the Jack Rabbit class of emotions, and shows you have some HUMAN prerogatives.

No, I don't think that "concentrating on the other half" will cure it, Ruth. And I do agree with you that I'd be bored if my only interests were Johnnie's piece at school and Betty's beauty. For all that sort of "concentration" is utterly selfish and belittling. Love and serve those that are nearest to you. BET IT! YOU WANT A REAL "KICK" CONCENTRATE ON LIFE! Help someone out—yourself. Learn something outside yourself. IF THE ONLY KICK I COULD GET OUT OF LIFE WAS A FORBIDDEN KISS I'D BUY A TICKET TO A FLEET-MANDED INSTITUTION AND END MY MISERY.

ELSTON IS NAMED ON BUDGET BODY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Representative J. A. Elston of the Sixth Congressional District of California was today appointed a member of the new general appropriations committee of the house, being the only California representative upon that committee. This committee becomes the most important of the house under the new budget system, and will become still more important if the new budget act becomes a law. This committee, as it is, takes over the appropriating functions of seven committees, including the Naval Affairs committee and the Military Affairs committee of the house. The appointment of Elston is of importance to Alameda county because it will handle appropriations for the naval base should it be established at Alameda. This committee is practically the budget-making body under the present system. It was created at the time that the budget act, which was vetoed by President Wilson, was passed by Congress, and after the veto it remained as practically the only budget-making body in the government. It will continue to function as such during the present session.

Brick Warehouse In L. A. Collapses

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—Fourteen persons employed in a warehouse building at Sixth and Alameda streets got out when the upper ceilings began to bulge, and five minutes later the building collapsed. One man was hurt but will recover. The building was three stories high, and was leased by a seed company that had stored about 120 tons of walnuts in the upper floors. A search of the ruins and a check of the employees indicated that no one had been killed unless some passerby was under the pile of bricks.

BLANKET RAISE DENIED BY JUDGE

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Requests for a blanket increase in wages of from $1 to $2 to employees of packing companies were denied today by Judge Samuel A. Shuler, arbitrator in the dispute between packers and employees over wages. Judge Shuler, however, granted some temporary increases to certain classes of workers which will amount to about $3,000,000 additional wages which packers will have to pay this year.

Judge Shuler granted all employees coming under the classification of "general plant workers" a 10 percent increase of 10 cents per hour up to $2.50 retroactive to July 5, 1920, and ending December 5. This award will really amount to a bonus of about 125,000 employees in Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, East St. Louis and Sioux City.

The award will give each employee under that classification an average of about $1.25 a week, attorneys for the packers estimated over the period for which the increase was made effective. Each man will receive between $25 and $31.50 as his share of the award.

The minimum wage of 61 cents an hour effective December 5 was set for special classes of workers in the various such as electricians and sheet workers. A minimum wage of 57 1/2 cents for machinery movers was set.

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET
ALABAMA, Dec. 7.—When the board of education meets this evening bids will be received for the installation of a completely new heating plant in the Lincoln school.

MURDERERS TAKE SHOES OFF FEET OF DEAD VICTIM

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.—Forty dollars in cash and a new pair of shoes cost the life of Clemente Salas here yesterday. This was the alleged confession of one of four persons arrested today. The arrests followed a police investigation which resulted from the finding of Salas' body, with a knife wound through the heart, in a vacant lot a block or two from the downtown police station. Today Seporanza Almada, a Mexican woman, and Ralph Contreras, Eulacio Alcala and Andrew Gabriel were lodged in jail, charged with suspicion of murder. The police said that Contreras told them the man was stabbed while in the woman's little auto, but that he stood guard while the two other men removed the body after dividing $40 in cash and taking the dead man's new shoes from his feet. They had not learned who did the stabbing, the police said.

Portugal Borrows On Her Corn Crop

LISBON, Dec. 7.—It is announced that the Portuguese Government has made an internal loan of $30,000,000. This is expected by Portuguese financiers to have a beneficial effect upon the rate of exchange. There was some improvement in this respect immediately following the announcement.

The government has made a contract for a supply of foreign corn said to be sufficient with the home product, to supply the needs of the country.

CLEANERS WIN; LAW REJECTED

Amid applause from a delegation of dyers and cleaners, the proposed ordinance compelling cleaners to publicly designate themselves as contract agents when they do not do the actual cleaning work themselves was lost this morning in the city council.

The proposed ordinance was introduced at the behest of the Better Business Bureau of the Advertising
Club, which said that the terms
"dyers and cleaners" was often misleading. The protesters asserted that the Advertising Club was being made "the goat" by a few dyers and cleaners who were trying to eliminate competition.

Does the city of Oakland want this ordinance or does just a small body of men? they asked.

Assemblyman Clifton Brooks, appearing for the cleaners, said that the proposed law would be unjust and would merely pick out one occupation as a mark for regulation.
"A grocery sells canned goods and doesn't make them," he said.
"Dairies often sell neighbors' milk.
There are distributors in every line of business. There are some cleaners who clean and distribute. Some co-both. Some only clean. Others distribute. Why is this business picked out for persecution? It is unfair to make cleaners label themselves as agencies while other occupations do not."
The cleaners asserted that they were willing to "reasonably subscribe" to the Advertising Club's slogan of "truth in advertising," but not in a way to disturb their own business while others go free.
The motion for the ordinance was lost unanimously.

FLOWERS SEND BOYS TO JAIL AS MURDERERS

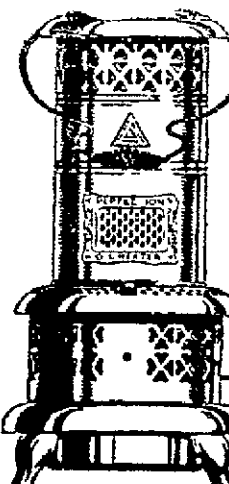

MUNDAPOLE, Dec. 7.—
Flowers they are alleged to have sent to the funeral of the murdered man caused the arrest of three youths today in connection with the slaying of James A.
Boyle 32 years old in his grocery store here last Wednesday night.
The flowers were sent from Superior, Wis., and investigation by the police resulted in the arrest of Percival Barnes, 18, his brother, Donald, 20, and Royal Carlson, 17. The police say the youths confessed. They entered the store for the purpose of robbery according to the alleged confession.

Police, Fire Pension Fund Is Created

BERKELEY, Dec. 7.—The police and fire pension fund was created today by the City Council, the way having been made for such action several months ago. It will be administered by a board including
Mayor Louis Bartlett, City Treasurer
E. V. Gove and the chiefs of the police and fire departments. At the end of each year any surplus will automatically be turned into the general treasury. Disabled members and families of deceased members will benefit. Two per cent of the salary of police and fire departmenemployees will be appropriated to the newly created fund, beginning January 1, 1921.

Men Arrested in Ship Strike Ask Damages

Two suits for $10,000 damages each were filed against the Moore Shipbuilding Company yesterday by men who were arrested and jailed for alleged violations of the court injunction secured by the shipbuilders during the shipyard strike eight months ago, prohibiting interference with shipyard workers. The plaintiffs are William Rodgers and J. Rodgers. They say they were arrested and imprisoned for three days in San Francisco and ask $10,000 each for the three days they served.

HAS FEW RELATIVES.
Corn has but few relatives in the plant world. Everyone knows the value and use of corn as a farm feed, but few appreciate its value as a human food in this country. In other corn producing countries it is a popular human food. It is a strictly American plant, but sailors carried it broadcast, and fields of it now cover the other continents.

CHILE AND PERU IN NO HURRY TO END OLD DISPUTE

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 7.—Chilean newspapers did not expect that the forty-year dispute between Chile and Peru for possession of the territory of Tacna and Arica would be taken up by the League of Nations' assembly at its first meeting in Geneva this month.

Bolivia and Peru had requested the League of Nations to revise their treaties with Chile. Bolivia wanted access to the sea and Peru wanted a reconsideration of the Tacna-Arica agreement. But both these requests were withdrawn early in the session, thus preventing the possibility that the league might encroach upon the Monroe Doctrine by considering those American questions in the absence of the United States.

DEPEND ON U. S.
Newspapers here expressed the belief that the League of Nations would not touch any American questions until it was decided whether the United States would enter the league and under what conditions. El Diario Ilustrado said: "What does the problem of Tacna and Arica—proposed by our northern neighbor—signify to the Society of Nations? It has waited years and can wait longer without any ill result to the world and to America. As soon as it is seen its solution is not simple—because our country asks the application of a treaty (the treaty of 1904) and Peru does not wish to recognize it—the question would be postponed until a less pressing time in world affairs."

The newspaper expressed the opinion that it would be difficult for the league to attempt even the initiation of consideration of American affairs without the concurrence of the United States.

CHILE'S RESERVATIONS
An interesting point not generally known in connection with Chile's preference to the League of Nations is that it carried this reservation: "The government of Chile reserves the right of considering modifications or reservations to that pact that may be made by nations signatory to the treaty of Versailles and which have not ratified it up to the present." The date thus referred to was November 4, 1919. Ratification would leave the opportunity open for Chile to adopt reservations subsequently made by the United States.

Suit Commenced to Collect $175,000 Note

Suit to collect on a note given by Edith Minnie Dursi as executrix of the will of Louis H. Dursi, has been filed by the Hibernia Savings and Loan Society. The amount is $175,000 secured by real property at Twelfth and Washington streets. The note, the complaint alleges, was given in 1915. The plaintiff names the following as being interested in the property which secured the note: Harvey B. Lyon, Oakland Title Insurance and Guaranty Company, Ralph Davis, Max Wolf, First Bank of Savings and the Oakland Bank of Savings.

Ku Klux Klan Goes After Wife-Beaters

URICHVILLE, Ohio, Dec. 7.—A Ku Klux Klan to avenge injuries done their wives by wife-beaters has been organized, according to a letter received by a local newspaper. The vigilantes call themselves "The Avengers." Their motto is: "Equal justice to all. Object, to get wife-beaters." The eighteen members comprise seven Republicans, seven Democrats and four Socialists. All are huskies. The communication asks all wives who have been beaten by their husbands to drop a line to the avenger and their grievances will be redressed in short order.

Pancho Villa Follows Plow But Totes Big Six-Shooter

By DAVID M. CHURCH, International News Service Staff Correspondent.
MATAMORAS, Mexico, Dec. 7.—Pancho Villa is perfectly satisfied to spend the rest of his life as Francisco Villa, "gentleman farmer," according to Elias L. Torres, the Mexican leader who opened the negotiations with Villa for his surrender.

"Villa is living the quiet and peaceful life of an agriculturist on his big estate at Canutillo, Durango, according to Torres, and the former bandit is satisfied that he has retired for the good of his countrymen. The big estate which Villa has taken over as one of the "gifts" bestowed upon him by the Mexican government, offers the man who formerly destroyed to reconstruct, according to Torres. The estate is partially in ruins, and although at one time it was a handsome estate, its little houses and colonies have become dilapidated and the soil has been too long untilled.

In the rebuilding of this farm of more than 2000 acres, Villa is now displaying the greatest interest. He is actually working with his own hands to rebuild and is directing the efforts of those who have settled with him in an effort to restore Canutillo to make it one of the most modern farms in all Mexico.

Villa has a ready supply of money and is able to accomplish much which his poorer neighbors cannot do. He is reported by Torres to be doing much for his neighbors and to be assuming much of the attitude of a philanthropist.

Villa still retains some of the members of the staff of his bandit army, and the all true gentleman farmers has his own private secretary.

It is not easy for Villa to give up many of his bandit customs and he still packs a huge six shooter and rides the most peppery horses obtainable.

Even in his retirement Villa holds a warm place in the hearts of many of his countrymen, and he is regarded with the greatest respect. In the curio stores in this dilapidated old Mexican city busts of Villa are displayed prominently on the shelves along with little clay images of Carranza and Kaiser Wilhelm. Apparently the sculptors of Mexico have not yet reached the task of immortalizing General Obregon in clay.

Pictures are prominently displayed in this part of the country of Pancho Villa.

Despite the belief of Torres, there are many Mexicans who believe that one fine day Pancho Villa will again ride through the mesquite brush at the head of his own little army, and that he will not break out of his works into ploughshares.

Reds Use Old Dodge To Land Propaganda

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 7.—Bolshevik propaganda experts, anxious to avoid discovery of the propaganda matter they are taking to America, are said to have resorted to the old war-time dodge of having their printed matter done in microscopic form, capable of being enlarged photographically.

On man, who was caught in Central Europe, had in his possession a number of queer looking postage stamps upon which were printed Soviet propaganda matter. The authorities were able to enlarge this to ordinary size.

The propaganda university which has been established at Moscow is reported to be now devoting extraordinary care to literature intended for two particular classes—women and farmers.

The women are urged to join the International Women's Communist Associations of which branches are to be established in America and the latter are urged to form farmers' communes with the ultimate purpose of creating Farmers' Red Guards.

BAKE WHILE FLOUR IS CHEAP, HOUSEWIVES TOLD

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—"Let the good old-fashioned housewife buy an old-fashioned barrel of flour and bake a good old-fashioned batch of bread," declared L. T. Winter, a director of the Chicago Board of Trade, in reply to a statement that "the price of bread is about the only article of food that has not declined."

"During the war an accentuated demand for bakery bread sprang up, partly because the baker was more expert in making an edible loaf from mixtures. The housewife has continued buying bakers' bread because it is easier. The baker contends that while ingredients have declined, labor is higher than ever."

"A general movement on the part of the housewife to lay in a supply of cheap flour now would materially help to stabilize the price of the farmer's wheat, besides strengthening the consumer's purse. The farmer wants the government to do something to advance the price of wheat. The consumer wants somebody to do something to reduce the price of bread. The solution lies in their own hands. Instead of contributing funds to promote new marketing facilities and to destroy organized grain exchanges which are the most useful servants the farmer ever had, the farmer might better start a campaign to remind housewives of the attractive qualities of home-made bread. Only a little team work is needed to solve the problem."

"In home breadmaking the labor cost is nothing, the bread is wholesome, and the necessity of paying as high as eighteen cents for bakers' mixed bread is eliminated."

Intellect is essentially aristocratic; charity is essentially democratic.

Little Oakland Film Star Will Go East

Virginia Lee Corbin, juvenile motion picture headliner at a local theater this week, will go to New York where it is expected she will be started in a Broadway production. This is her last week with the Fantages, vaudeville circuit, after a ten-week tour of the coast.

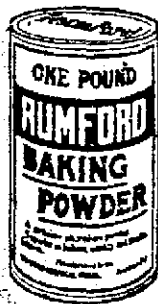

The little girl was for some time connected with the Fox Film Corporation and played important roles in "Treasure Island" and "Jack and the Beanstalk." She celebrated her eighth birthday Sunday when she gave her first performance in Oakland.

Before going to New York she is going to Los Angeles for a rest. She is accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Virginia Corbin, who acts as her manager.

SOME SPEED.

BAKING POWDER

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

by DELE GARDNER

The Way Madge Smoothed Lella Fairfax's Troubles.

"Oh, if she only would do those," Mrs. Durkee sighed. "I think I could go to sleep."

"I'll promise that," I said holding the pellet and a glass of water out to her. "So shut your eyes."

Mother Graham fulfilled my prophecy and "bowed Katie around" so successfully on the tomato canning job that by late afternoon of the next day the cans of Mrs. Durkee's scarlet tomatoes were all cooled, labeled and ready for transference to the dark recesses of the cellar.

I put in a hectic day myself, for even by minimizing the work at our own house and giving Alfred his meals with us—thus doing away with two separate processes of cooking—there was enough to be done in the two houses and the care of Mrs. Durkee to keep me busy from morning until night. Alfred, of course, was a great help with his mother, and Dicky had volunteered to escort Lella and her suitcase from the studio she and her sister shared out to Marvin on the evening train. It was, of course, only the most natural of courtesies, for Dicky's studio is in the same building, but I could not dreading the next two weeks as sincerely as her prospective patient was.

"I—I want to ask you something," she said nervously when we had finished our dinner.

"Yes, dear," I replied encouragingly. "I slipped my arm around her as I spoke, although my acquaintance with her was hardly warranted the familiar caress. I am usually chary of intimacies, unless with those I have known and loved for a long time, but there was something pathetically appealing in the dark eyes looking into mine."

"Do—do you think Mrs. Durkee really wants me?" she began falteringly, then evidently swept by some urgent feeling, she hurried into rapid speech. "You see, I have no way of telling. Of course, Alfred's first thought was naturally for me to come to his mother, and I could not refuse him. And I do want to come. I'd just love to take care of her. I'd wait on her hand and foot, but I'm so afraid that Alfred has urged her so that she couldn't refuse him. It would be perfectly awful if she didn't want me, and had to have me around when she is helpless this way."

I interrupted her ruthlessly.

"Do you know what I think?" I asked lightly, giving her shoulder a caressing little squeeze. "I think you're being a very foolish little girl, and are giving yourself a great deal of unnecessary bother. You see, I happened to be present when Alfred said he thought you would be glad to come, and his mother expressed herself as delighted, said there was no one she would rather have than Lella."

"Oh! Did she really?" The girl's delicate face was suffused with happiness.

color. I felt like rushing over and shaking my obstinate little head for not realizing the treasure of an affectionate heart which was offered her."

"She really did," I smiled, "and the only objection I heard her make was to the effect that it was an imposition to ask you to put off your own work to come to her."

"I had nothing to put off," I quick shadow flitted over the girl's face, and I guessed that her lack of opportunity to earn money hurt her cruelly. "And I am so glad she wants me. Tell me please, just what there is to do."

I outlined briefly the treatment Dr. Gibson had ordered, then unfolded the household arrangements Mother Graham and I had already planned. "You are not to do any cooking except the things Mrs. Durkee wants, and we will send over most of those, she won't be on any special invalid diet after today. You and Alfred will take your meals with us, and some one of us will run across and sit with her while you are over here at your meals. Now, not a word. It is all arranged. But there one thing which is going to be very trying I am afraid. Mrs. Durkee was right in the midst of her canning and preserving, and there is a great deal of fruit on the place which she is afraid is going to waste."

"Oh—oh!" Lella caroled like a little girl. "That's just what I love! I've been just crazy to fix Alf some of the same and things my old black nanny taught me, and now I'll have the chance."

I turned my head to hide a dismaying but whimsical smile. I foresaw fun ahead for the disinterested onlooker in this contest of canners. (Continued Tomorrow)

Reliable

When first put on the market, R-B with its imported Sumatra wrapper and full-flavored, long-lasting filler was hailed as a remarkable value. Today, appreciative smokers acclaim it as the reliable cigarette because it has held to standards of quality and workmanship. They're still buying R-B Londres for 8 cents and as always it's a good cigarette seasoned for a cool, smooth smoke.

Club Women To Dispense Christmas Cheer

By EDNA E. KINARD

Christmas is coming as sure as can be. And there are hundreds of men and women and little children who are not feeling joyous and glad at the approach. But all over the city and throughout the length and breadth of the county, there are many loving, tender, happy plans being made for those who by force of circumstances are only dreading the ringing of the Yuletide bells. The youngsters in the orphanages and institutions hereabouts are to have a gorgeous, beautiful party, because Mills College women have decreed it so and are devoting themselves without rest to perfecting the plans which will shortly be announced.

The California Girls Training Home in Alameda, with its half hundred young inmates will not be neglected. The Big Sisters of the Public Welfare League are mothering a scheme which will provide each girl with the kind of Christmas she has dreamed of. A few of them are being adopted outright for the holidays and will receive the same thoughtful attention that any beloved daughter expects. For once a plan is going forth for embroidery scissors for the holiday tree. Time was when the sharp point was prohibited in the home but that day is done. Even Matron Douglas lifts up her voice to ask for the work-basket accessory.

"Little things make the girls so happy—a hair ribbon, an ornament, a handkerchief, things for the toilet table, any little thing that is attractive to look upon and can be made use of," she says.

So the Big Sisters have established a Training Home Fund and have announced that trinkets will be received for the young women at their headquarters in the Daisie building. BIG SISTERS RAISING FUND

The girls in the care of the Associated Charities, in charge of the probation officers, and Mrs. Ann Ryan, moreover, are not to be overlooked. The Big Sisters already have a little treasury of twenty dollars or so which they are hoping to swell to be placed with Miss Elizabeth Stole, Mrs. Mary Quayle, Miss Ella Flynn and Mrs. Ryan for holiday remembrances.

Moreover the Associated Charities have some 1600 families whose Christmas larders are needing filling and a whole bevy of young girls who need to be remembered substantially with warm garments, good shoes or even some foolish trifle to mark the holiday. Sharing up a bit with some of these is a Yuletide suggestion which comes from Miss Skeels.

Around through the city are families, large and small, not listed with the charities, who are facing an empty board on Christmas day. The Salvation Army is planning to look out in part for them. Late this week the kettles will appear on the street corners which will offer the public an opportunity to help spread the holiday cheer.

Federated Clubs and Mothers Clubs are having their own special groups to look out after, busy fingers making warm, cozy wardrobes and shelves of many a pantry. Not even toys or sweets are to be overlooked in the gay boxes.

The women who are arranging tender holiday programs are asking who will help and where.

FIVE PROGRAM

The Christmas concert of the Etude Club is announced for Monday night in the Twentieth Century Clubhouse.

MISS GERTRUDE SEAYER, one of the younger students at the University of California, serving on the Blue and Gold staff.—Boys Portrait.

with a notable array of club members to appear in program. Mrs. Herbert Avery is chairman of the committee on program, assisted by Mrs. H. J. McNulty, Mrs. Herschell L. Hagan, Mrs. Willis H. Collins, Frank Clark, Mrs. Frederick H. Hall and Miss Minnie Young.

Mrs. Edna Barnes Karmel, Mrs. Willis H. Collins and Mrs. Dwight M. Swobe have been named the vocalists of the evening. The piano ensemble will include Mrs. George H. Naus, Miss Katharine S. Luke, Mrs. Martin P. Warner, Mrs. Ward Wells, Othman who will participate in Miss Lorraine Matter violin-cello. Mrs. Julia Hannas Cochran, violin; Miss Grace Jurgens, piano. The club chorus will present a group of songs. The concert is invitational.

Old clothes, jams, jellies, home made cakes, candies and all sorts of whatnots, will crowd each other at the White Elephant sale which the Garfield Parent-Teacher Association has announced for Wednesday, December 15, in the Twenty-third avenue schoolhouse. Tea cups will reveal the future with Senorita Carmelia Estudillo, the charming seer, in charge. Garfield mothers need an enlarged treasure chest to carry forward their holiday plans.

'Bill' Haywood Not Allowed to Speak

Haywood here last night refused to permit William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, I. W. W. leader, to speak at a meeting in Armory hall and later broke up a meeting in an outlying hall when another attempt was made to have him address an audience.

The first meeting was widely advertised despite the fact that the chief of police refused to issue a permit.

Betrothal Told At Tea Given By Miss High

The tea which Miss Edith High, daughter of Mrs. William H. High of Adams Point, gave for her home in Van Buren street in honor of Miss Anne Roberts of Spokane, this afternoon, was the medium through which the hostess told of her engagement to James Roberts, brother of the honoree and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Roberts of Spokane, a representative family of the northern state.

The betrothal comes as a surprise to many friends of the hostess and her mother as Miss High is one of the younger girls of the debutante set and a graduate of Miss Head's school in Berkeley.

Miss Roberts and her mother are wintering at the Hotel Oakland. The announcement was made when the prizes were presented at each table, the dainty cards concealed within the gifts.

No plans have been made for the wedding.

Throughout the home vases and jardiniere of russet and gold chrysanthemums were used.

Guests at the bridge party were the Misses Margaret Noble, Sally Robbins, Marian Dillam, Laura Miller, Virginia Smith, Schatze Adams, Vera Bernhardt, Flora Edwards, Ruth Abbott, Ruth Bowley, Jean Clift, Searles, Adele Criss, Helen Lamb, Elizabeth Shilling, Carmen Stoip, Gladys Guynle, Margaret Well, Lois Williams, Margaret Webster, Dorothy Cawston, Doris Rodolph, Marie Landsberger, Nell Brodger, Helen Carlton, Mrs. J. E. Brown.

Pouring tea were Mrs. W. B. Roberts, Mrs. William H. High, Mrs. H. L. Walters, Mrs. George Seth Daniels.

The Officers of the Twelfth Naval District have sent out 1000 invitations for a ball given for the officers of the U. S. S. California at the Putney Hotel tomorrow evening. Many of the Eastbay set will be guests.

OMEGA NU MEMBERS

Guests at tea.

Eastbay Omega Nus were guests at the home of Mrs. W. R. Williams in Mount Saturday at tea, about 200 calling as the guests of the recently sister, Miss Lois Williams. Members of the San Francisco chapter were also guests. Receiving were the Misses Laura Milton, Jean and Ruth Fletcher, Claire Hogan, Dorothy Hunter, Mildred Olson, Dorothy de Graff, Frances Laidlaw, and pouring tea were Mrs. Harry Calvin Lind, Mrs. John Clifford Ernst, and Mrs. Paul Parker (Gladys Vander Naiten).

New honors to Dan Capid for his activity among co-eds at the University of California were accorded today with the news of the approach of the graduation season.

Miss Howe chose the Rediviva Clubhouse in Berkeley, where she made her home while attending the university, as the scene of her announcement party. She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Warren T. Howe of Watsonville and comes of a family well known in the bay section.

Wedlake is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Wedlake of Mount Vernon, New York, and graduated from Cornell with the 1920 class. He is a member of the Sigma Xi fraternity. The romance had its inception when Wedlake went to Watsonville some months ago to accept a position with a large fruit company. No plans have been announced for the wedding as yet.

New Year reservations are flocking in for the various clubhouses and hotels aside from the many invitations extended for "at home" affairs, the largest of which is to be the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank James Edoff at their home in Vernon Heights, New Year's Day, and the dance to be given New Year's eve by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest D. Porter, which will draw many of the elite to that household.

Out at the Sequoyah Country club but few places remain to be filled.

Kinney and her daughter, Miss Lorene Kinney, have indefinitely postponed the tea which they were to have given December 11 in honor of Miss Mabel Wilson and Mrs. George Reynolds O'Connor of Alameda. Mrs. Noble Newsome was hostess this afternoon at her home in Thousand Oaks, her guest of honor being

Mrs. Madeline Clifford, who is soon to leave for the Hawaiian Islands.

Are Your Teeth in Bad Shape?

People with broken, decayed, discolored teeth put in a lot of time trying to hide them. They are ashamed to laugh, and often hold a handkerchief to the mouth to conceal their bad teeth. It is a very great handicap to have decayed teeth—bad for the looks and bad for the health.

Any disfigurement caused by bad teeth can be corrected either by fillings, crowns, bridgework or plates. Dentistry works wonders when done under the E. R. Parker System.

FRANCO AWARDED $793 FOR BEATING BY SERG'T PIERCE

Another chapter today was written into the serial of events which have characterized the official actions of Powell A. Pierce, sergeant of police, when Manuel Franco was given $793 damages from the policeman by Judge A. F. St. Sure.

Franco is an aged Portuguese who was arrested by Pierce charged with carrying illicit liquor.

In police court Pierce was convicted of brutality manhandling his aged prisoner when he threw him into a cell in the firehouse of Engine Company No. 3 in West Oakland and given an alternative sentence of $175 fine or 87 days in jail.

Today Franco's suit for $10,593 ended in the small judgment, but the Court took occasion to make some pointed remarks on the conduct of Pierce. Among these was the declaration of his belief that there would be fewer crimes like that at Santa Rosa if there were no brutal policeman.

Franco was so roughly used when arrested that he suffered three fractured ribs. He said his bill for medical treatment was $593.

Aside from the Franco case other charges of rough treatment to prisoners have been made against Pierce, and on July 26 he was attacked by a crowd while making an arrest at Thirty-fourth and Hollis streets.

In Pierce's trial in police court the firemen at Engine House No. 3 appeared to testify against the sergeant, so stirred were they by his handling of Franco.

They charged that Franco pleaded with the policeman not to hurt him, and cried, "Don't kill me."

Cheerfulness is a duty we owe to others.

Invasion of Ekaterinburg By Bolshevik Transforms City Once Held by British

The following is the third of a series of articles in which Capt. Francis McCullagh sets forth the manner in which Leon Trotsky, Bolshevik minister of war, sowed the seeds of communism which resulted in the destruction of General Wrangel's White Russian Army.

By Capt. Francis McCullagh

Special to The Oakland Tribune and The New York Herald.

(Copyright, 1920, New York Herald.)

LEON TROTSKY, the Russian Bolshevik minister of war, was in Ekaterinburg previously to the occupation of Trotsky's visit, first in 1918, when the Czechs were there, and again in 1919, when Koltchak's troops and the Russian Revolutionaries occupied it. On both these occasions it had been a very busy place, the railway station being crowded with staff trains, most of which might be briefly described as border ambulances; the station platform, a local Piccadilly in more senses than one, being always crowded with soldiers, horses, cabs and the swift motor cars of great brass generals; the shops and eating houses full of food; the market place crowded with farmers' carts.

In fact, it was like any other army base, a town of good cheer, overcrowded, khaki, "hustle," horses and Bolsheviks. Imperfect, with streaks of religion and bursts of philanthropy, it was, with all its faults, human.

COMPLETELY CHANGED

The Ekaterinburg that met my eyes on that visit was completely changed. Trying to describe that change to myself in one word I meant to say "Bolshevism," but found myself saying "Puritanism." For between the two there are the most astonishing resemblance, perhaps because extremes meet, perhaps because the one is as pre-Christian as the other is post-Christian. I know that it ought not to be so and that Lenin should be seated on a heap of skulls quaking human blood, while Trotsky should be engaged nightly in bacchanalian revels; but, as a matter of fact, Lenin leads as austere a life as Oliver Cromwell while Trotsky is as busy as Lloyd George.

The platform of Ekaterinburg station was no longer a promenade, and only people who had business to do came there. It was sometimes deserted altogether save for three grim-faced figures in military uniforms. One great hall in the station had been turned into a typhus hospital and another great hall into a "propaganda point." The station walls were covered with advertisements, not advertisements of the nerve tablets and hair tonics order, but Bolshevik propaganda advertisements.

"ATTITUDE FREE"

At each end of the platform was painted a huge notice ordering all O. C.'s to bring their men without fail to the "propaganda point" and to apply there for newspapers and "literature," which would be given free.

These propaganda points exist in every station along the Siberian line and are very remarkable institutions. The largest hall in the station building is always selected and is kept solidly who has a tiny office apartment there on collection of Bolshevik newspapers, he wrestles in his spare moments with the voluminous volumes of Karl Marx, indicates to the young the damnable and pernicious heresies of Krautsky, or engages in edifying conversation about Lenin's latest encyclical with wise, ungodly old Communists from the local Soviet.

Over the entrance of the Ekaterinburg hall there was painted in large letters the text, "Those who work not, neither must they eat," while on the wall on one side of the well-known appeal of Karl Marx, "Workers of the world unite! You have a world to gain and only your chains to lose."

PICTURES ATTACKED

The pictures and cartoons with which the whole interior was covered from floor to ceiling might be divided into several groups:

1. Those praising the red army and calculated to foster a military spirit.
2. Those condemning capitalists, clergymen and militarists.
3. Those flattering the workman and promising him the overthrow of the world.
4. Those exciting anger against foreign countries, particularly France and England.

There were appeals to the railway workmen not to go on strike, but to remember that by striking they would inflict a deadly blow on democracy, and that though their present discomforts were great there was a good time coming.

There were charts showing the parts of machine guns and the way to make bombs, and these were generally accompanied by explanatory letter press and by appeals to the workmen to drill and arm and study the mechanism of their rifles, so that no power on earth could disarm them and force them back again into the old servitude.

Side by side with these were charts explaining the construction of the latest agricultural machinery and exhorting the peasantry to make themselves proficient agriculturists.

RELIGION DETESTED

The attacks on religion consisted of caricatures of clergymen making money out of holy relics and squandering that money privately on revels and debauchery. The clergyman was sometimes represented as a huge leering spider sucking his web around the cradle and his wife and children; and these anti-clerical cartoons were generally accompanied by satirical doggerel from the pen of the Soviet's principal poet, Moscow Communist who wrote a great deal of coarse, satirical verse under the pen name of Ivan B. Beday (Poor John).

Many huge colored cartoons were devoted to Koltchak and Denikin, and were mostly vulgar but effective.

The triumph of the Red Army was exhibited, not without a show art, in a series of cartoons, some rough and ready, some very fine, showing the frozen steppes, others showing them charging madly through the smoke of battle.

CAPITAL OF IRELAND

In one double picture a number of blithely capitalist, clergymen and purple-nosed generals were shown in the act of binding the Russian workman in chains. In the other section of the same picture the workman was seen breaking the chains, scattering his would-be masters right and left, and jumping on the stomach of the fattest of them.

The "elimination" of the landlord was represented in a cartoon containing many sections. In the early sections we had the old days of serfdom; in the later sections we had the landlord running for his life, accompanied by the parish priest, and finally a prosperous and contented peasantry owning everything in sight and provided with a palatial and well attended Communist school, but

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no root" feeling, constipation, rapid liver, bad disposition or pimples, for example.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 50c.—Advertisement.

Mrs. Clark's 'Confession' to Stand, Insanity New Defense

Virginia P. Clark's alleged "confession" to the police that she shot and killed her husband, Chester, as he lay beside her in bed in the Clark cottage at 1512 Eighty-ninth avenue at dawn on August 15, today went into the record in her trial.

It was the opportunity against which C. A. A. McGee, chief defense counsel, has fought for days to the extent that he was forced to call the defendant to the stand, where she collapsed from overwrought nerves.

Revelations that on August 17, Mrs. Clark went with inspectors Tracy, Rossick and McFarley to the little red death house at 1512 Eighty-ninth avenue and rehearsed the murder, with Rossick taking Clark's place on the bed, were made by Tracy.

"Mrs. Clark told us that she reached over her husband, took the gun and, sliding from the bed, fired shot after shot into his body," Tracy testified, "which was a very serious matter."

"Mamma, mamma, oh, please don't kill me! Please don't kill me!" the woman shot her husband through the abdomen, through the hand, through heart and head, Tracy said she confessed.

When Judge James G. Quinn today ruled that the "confession" had not been proven to have been voluntary on the part of the defendant, he was considered to have thrown the defense directly back upon its second line, which will be the plea that Mrs. Clark was insane at the moment her husband died, supposedly by her hand.

TEARS OF CONVICTION. Immediately after the ruling Robert P. Tracy, inspector of police, who was taken from the stand yesterday to permit Mrs. Clark to tell in what fashion the police had treated her, began to recite from things the police admitted Mrs. Clark told at a conversation in the morgue's office of the city jail at 9:20 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, August 17.

That story was that because of an act by her husband she reached under the mattress of the bed, drew forth an automatic pistol and while he was sleeping, shot him.

Examination of Mrs. Clark by her attorney to prove that she had been forced and cajoled to confess the murder of her husband was completed today when Mrs. Clark, under cross-examination admitted that Inspector Tracy and the police had never promised her freedom, and had been "very kind and considerate."

Because Mrs. Clark told Deputy District Attorney Frank M. Shay that the "sea of faces in the audience pierced to her very soul, and that one woman in particular seemed malicious and permitted to testify, sitting at the attorneys' table."

Dr. J. W. Robertson, one time superintendent of Napa and now in charge of the Livermore sanitarium, who will be the chief alienist for the prosecution, appeared in court for the prosecution.

Like a medium making revelations in a trance, Mrs. Clark said it was as if she had been told to do it. "I can just see him," she said, "with a taraway look in her eyes, wiggling her hands. 'I can just see him and that is all—he is talking to me, oh, the more I think the worse I get.'"

"When Tracy first questioned me Sunday he talked like a great big baby boy. Of course he talked awfully nice—too nice. He made no promises to me."

She said the first meeting she had at the jail with Chief Lynch and others was an agreeable gathering at which they talked about the chief of police of Norfolk and of others whom she knew. She said she was sorry when the interview was over.

At various times the police told her that the suicide theory was impossible and asked her to tell them the truth.

"I felt that these officers were my friends, and I had nothing to fear. I have nothing to fear now."

That she was so sick that she had to be half carried into the meetings that the inspectors arranged with her, was her testimony. She said that on Sunday night at 8:30 p. m. she felt very friendly toward the officers because they talked to her kindly.

"I tried to leave them. I never had any friends."

Mrs. Clark said she prayed the night following this meeting for a revelation of what happened during those few minutes that her husband was being murdered.

SUICIDE PAIR'S ASHES WED BY GIRL'S FATHER

ATAMI, Japan, Dec. 7.—A marriage ceremony has just been performed here over the ashes of two bodies in the belief that a single young man and an unmarried woman who committed suicide would have a happy married life in the next world.

The couple committed suicide or double suicide, for love, throwing themselves into the sea from recovered and cremated with the Buddhist ceremonies. The ashes were then brought to the home of the girl's father and he performed a marriage ceremony over them. According to the Buddhist faith, marriage contracted in this world will carry over to the next.

U. C. Leaders Resent Charge Made by Portland Robber

BERKELEY, Dec. 7.—University grew discouraged when he did not of California authorities and leaders obtain work.

In the fraternities there refuse to be the excuse for the downfall of H. H. Berry, 21, arrested in Portland, Oregon, yesterday on a charge of attempted robbery. Perusal of the story was to hit some victim over the head, Berry, who is alleged to have declared to the police in the northern city that his failure to be admitted to a popular fraternity in the Berkeley institution of learning drove him to crime.

According to the story which young man is said to have offered to the university after he was released from custody, the police station was by institution of learning drove him to crime.

HEART BALM FOR $50,000 SOUGHT

The romance of 20 years has crumbled with the film by Mrs. Cecilia Swinney, 721 Sixteenth street, an employee of a local motion picture theater, of a breach of promise suit for $50,000 against Harry Brann, secretary of the Havisson Company, ship chandlery in the San Francisco courts. Brann says Mrs. Swinney's action is due to irresponsibility caused by the death of her husband.

Mrs. Swinney says Brann became

HOW HE ENDED KIDNEY TROUBLE
"I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and for three weeks could not get out of doors and scarcely out of bed," writes C. E. Evans, Village Springs, Ala. "Could not bend over at all without the most excruciating pains. I purchased a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills. Was relieved after first few doses and continued their use until completely cured. I consider Foley Kidney Pills the best kidney remedy in the world. No recurrence of my trouble." Osgood Bros.—Advertisement

BLUE BIRD BUREAU OF THE TRIBUNE

In the little book which the Blue Bird keeps on his tiny desk are two columns. One column is labeled "Hopes" and the other "Fulfillment". In the one column is written the names of those whose wishes of hopes and fears are borne in daily by the gray-clad letter man. And over against these in the other column are written the names of those who have fulfilled their wishes.

The first column is pitifully long. The second has many blanks. Shall it be that when the shades of Christmas eve are falling over hill and town and when the Blue Bird, bearing his little book, has winged his way to the casement in that far castle tower from which St. Nicholas looks down over the world, the first column still may be long and the second still have many blanks? Hark! Hark! Goodfellows!

I will be Santa Claus to children (as many as you wish). Please give me the names of children in (State what section of the city you prefer to have assigned to you).

POLICE FINALLY SOLVE MYSTERY OF FLYING AUTO

A man astride the hood of an automobile and a woman lying on the floor in the tonneau of the machine while the car was flying along at thirty miles an hour, was more than Police Officer A. R. Monroe could understand late yesterday. The car went spinning by the man on the hood waving his hands wildly and the woman screaming. Monroe promptly commanded the driver to stop.

The mystery was deepened when the man on the hood refused to answer Monroe's questions, and the woman in the tonneau only moaned.

It later developed that the woman was Mrs. D. E. Dunham, saleswoman, 2736 Twenty-sixth avenue, who had been struck by a car driven by Stanley Painter of 1316 Sherman avenue, Alameda. She was being rushed to the hospital.

The man on the hood was C. C. Lehman, 7505 California avenue, who had jumped in order to avoid being struck by the car and had landed on the hood only a few moments before his predicament was noticed by Monroe. His refusal to talk to the officer was legitimate. He is a deaf mute.

BOARD RECEIVES AND OPENS BIDS

Bids were opened at the meeting of the board of education last night for the construction of Prescott and Tompkins schools, ranging from $38,000 to $49,000 each. They will be decided at a special meeting of the board Thursday evening.

The regular annual statement of the business manager, showing the appropriations for the fiscal year 1920-21 was tendered by Manager Lloyd Barzee. It usually comes in September, but because of the many changes in the school department fiscal management it was delayed. The total appropriations were: Kindergarten, $122,708.40; elementary, $2,015,017.90; high school, $1,313,143.51.

This does not include the construction of new buildings for which bonds were voted a year ago, as that is a special fund.

DOCTORS SAID LUNGS MIGHT LAST 6 MONTHS

Mrs. Anthony thought her time had come—Found road to health, gained 40 pounds.

"I want to tell others what Milks Emulsion has done for me. Doctors told my husband that I would not live six months. I had tuberculosis. When I began taking your wonderful medicine I began to get better and am now strong, able to do all my work. Weigh 140 pounds more, have a good appetite and sleep fine at night. Before using Milks Emulsion I could not do anything, had to sleep in a chair, no appetite and thought my time had certainly come."

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to make it, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, eases the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction, or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Chico Henry Story a day

A Double-Dyed Deceiver
Copyright 1920, by Doubleday, Page & Co. Published by special arrangement with the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

Thacker leaned back against the wall and held his glass up to the light.

"We've come now," said he, "to the question of how far you're willing to go in a little matter of the sort."

"I told you why I came down here," said the kid simply.

"A good answer," said the consul. "But you won't have to go that far."

"I'll tell you," said the kid. "I'll trade-mark tattooed on your hand I'll notify old Urique. In the meantime I'll furnish you with all of the family history I can find out, so you can be studying up points to talk about. You've got the looks, you speak the Spanish, you know the facts, you can tell about Texas, you've had the tattoo mark. When I notify them that the right heir has returned and is waiting to know whether he will be received and pardoned, what will happen? They'll simply run down here and fall on your neck, and the curtain goes down for refreshments and a stroll in the lobby."

"Un waiting," said the kid. "I haven't had my saddle on yet, your camp long, pardner, and I never met you before; but if you intend to let it go at a parental blessing, why, I'm mistaken in my man, that's all."

"Thanks," said the consul. "I haven't met anybody in a long time that keeps up with an argument as well as you do. The rest of it is simple. If they take you in only for a while it's long enough. Don't give 'em time to hunt up the strawberry mark on your left shoulder. Old Urique keeps anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000 in his house all the time in a little safe that you could open with a shoe buttoner. Get it. My

"He lets me carry the key sometimes just to show me that he knows I'm the real little Francisco that strayed from the herd a long time ago."

"The United States go to pieces if it can't get along without my services. Que dice, senior?"

"I'm out for the dust," said the kid.

"All right, then," said Thacker. "You'll have to keep close until we get the word on you. You can live in the back room here. I do my own cooking, and I'll make you as comfortable as a parsimonious government will allow me."

Thacker had set the time at a week, but it was two weeks before the design that he patiently tattooed upon the kid's hand was to his notion. And then Thacker called a valet, and dispatched this note to the intended victim:

El Señor Don Santos Urique, La Casa Blanca.

My dear Sir:

I beg permission to inform you that there is in my house as a temporary guest a young man who arrived in Buenas Tierras from the United States some days ago.

Without wishing to excite any hopes that may not be realized, I think there is a possibility of his being your long-absent son. It might be well for you to call and see him. If he is, it is my opinion that his intention was to return to his home, but upon arriving here, his courage failed him from doubts as to how he would be received.

Your true servant, Thompson Thacker.

Half an hour afterward—quick time for "Buenas Tierras"—Senior Urique's ancient landau drove to the consul's door with the heretofore coachman beating and shouting at the team of fat, awkward horses.

A tall man with a white mustache alighted, and assisted to the ground a lady who was dressed and veiled in unrelieved black.

The two hastened inside, and were met by Thacker with his best diplomatic bow. By his desk stood a slender young man with clean-cut, sun-browned features and smoothly brushed hair.

Senior Urique threw back her heavy veil with a quick gesture. She was just middle-aged, and her hair was beginning to silver, but her full, proud figure and clear olive skin retained traces of the beauty peculiar to the Basque province. But, once you had seen her eyes, and comprehended the great sadness that was revealed in their deep shadows and hopeless expression, you saw that the woman lived only in some memory.

She bent upon the young man a long look of the most agonized questioning. Then her great black eyes turned, and her gaze rested upon his behind. And then, with a sob, she cried "¡Hijo mío!" and caught the Liano Kid to her heart.

A month afterward the kid came to the consul in response to a message sent by Thacker.

He looked the younger Spanish caballero. His clothes were imported, and the wiles of the jewellers had not been spent upon him in vain. A more than respectable diamond shone on his finger as he rolled a shuck cigarette.

"What's doing?" asked Thacker.

"Nothing much," said the kid calmly. "I eat my first iguana steak today. They're my big lizard, you see? I reckon, though, that frijoles and side bacon would do me about as well. Do you care for iguanas, Thacker?"

"No, nor for some other kind of reptiles," said Thacker.

It was three in the afternoon, and in another hour he would be in his state of beatitude.

"It's time you were making good, sonny," he went on, with an ugly look on his reddened face. "You're not playing up to me square. You've been the prodigal son for four weeks now, and you could have had real for every meal on a gold stick if you'd wanted it. Now, Mr. Kid, do you think it's right to leave me out so long on a husk diet? What's the trouble? Don't you get your fill of anything that looks like cash in the Casa Blanca? Don't tell me you don't. Everybody knows where old Urique keeps his stuff. It's U.S. currency, too, he don't accept anything else. What's doing? Don't say 'nothing' this time."

"Why, sure," said the kid, admiring his diamond. "There's plenty of money up there. I'm no judge of collateral in bunches, but I'll undertake for to say that I've seen a rise of $50,000 at a time in that tin grub box that my adopted father calls his safe. And he lets me carry the key sometimes just to show me that he knows I'm the real little Francisco that strayed from the herd a long time ago."

"Well, what are you waiting for?" asked Thacker angrily. "Don't you forget that I can upset your appetite any day I want to. If old Urique knew you were an impostor, what sort of things would happen to you? Oh, you don't know this country, Mr. Texas Kid. The laws here have got mustard spread between 'em. These people here'd stretch you out like a frog that had been stepped on at every corner of the plaza. And they'd wear every stick out, too. What was left of you they'd feed to alligators."

"I might as well tell you, now, pardner," said the kid, sliding down on his steamer chair, "that things are going to stay just as they are. They're about right now."

"What do you mean?" asked

Thacker, rattling the bottom of his glass on his desk.

"The scheme's off," said the kid. "And whenever you have the pleasure of speaking to me address me as Don Francisco Urique. I'll guarantee I'll answer to it. We'll let Colonel Urique keep his money. His little tip safe is as good as the tin locker in the First National Bank of Laredo as far as you and me are concerned."

"You're going to throw me down, then, are you?" said Thacker coolly.

"Sure," said the kid cheerfully. "Throw you down. That's it. And now I'll tell you why. The first night I was up at the consul's house they dropped two or three rain and his blankets on the floor—a real room, with a bed and things in it. And before I was asleep, in comes this artificial mother of mine and tucks in the covers. 'Paqui, here, my little lost one, God has brought you back to me. I bless His name forever! It was that, or some truck like that, she said. And down comes a drop or two of rain and his me on the nose. And all that stuck by me, Mr. Thacker. And it's been that way ever since. And it's got to stay that way. Don't you think that's a little bit of a trick, eh? Well, I say so. If you have any such ideas, keep 'em to yourself. I haven't had much truck with women in my life, and no mothers to speak of, but here's a lady that we've got to keep fooled. Once she stood it; twice she won't. I'm a low-down wolf, and the devil may have sent me on this trail instead of God, but I'll forget that I'm Don Francisco Urique whenever you happen to mention my name."

"It sounds like today, you—you double and traitor," stammered Thacker.

The kid arose and, with violence, took Thacker by the throat with a hand of steel, and shoved him slowly into a corner. Then he drew from under his left arm his pearl-handled .45 and poked the cold muzzle of it against the consul's mouth.

"I told you why I came here," he said, with his old freezing smile. "If I leave here you'll be the reason. Never forget it, pardner. Now, what is my name?"

"El Don Francisco Urique," gasped Thacker.

From outside came a sound of wheels, and the shouting of some one, and the sharp thwacks of a woman whistling upon the backs of fat horses.

The kid put up his gun, and walked toward the door. But he turned again and came back to his kneeling Thacker and held up his left hand with its back toward the consul.

"There's one more reason," he said slowly, "why things have to go this way. If I leave here, I'll be in Laredo had one of them same pictures on his left hand."

Outside, the ancient landau of Don Santos Urique rattled to the door. The coachman, with his beaming Senior Urique, in a voluminous gay gown of white lace and flying ribbons, leaned forward with a happy look in her great soft eyes.

"¡Madre mia, yo vengo (mother, I come)," answered the young Don Francisco Urique.

STATE MAY FACE LARGE DEFICIT

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—A possible deficit of $25,000,000 faces the state this year as a result of increased appropriations and legislation requiring increased expenditures. State Controller John S. Chambers declared here last night at a regional conference of prominent educators from California, Nevada and Arizona.

The controller said the next session of the legislature would make appropriations ranging from $80,000,000 to $90,000,000 and that according to the best estimates available only about $65,000,000 in surplus funds was available to meet this enormous demand.

Sellers of Theories

DEAR TESSIE: You seem to have a gift for getting hold of the wrong nurse-girls. From your descriptive matter of how your present specimen trips over everything around the house I judge that she don't belong to the non-skid variety. Of course I realize good nurse-girls are hard to find and perhaps they are even things of the past, but even so I wouldn't advise you to stand for too much of her skidding, especially when the baby happens to be a passenger at the time.

Of course she might fall with the baby without doing him any harm, as you say. The reason for this is that babies are already so close to nature that even when they are brought into more violent contact they don't as a rule take it very hard. But accidents will happen with the best regulated babies and I wouldn't like to think that my particular baby is being subjected to too many demonstrations of this great natural law.

And besides that, the nurse-girl might just happen to break her own leg in one of her skids when she's a little out of practice or tired or something and thus put you to a lot of inconvenience. So if I were you I'd just speak to her nicely on the subject a few times and ask her to please try to concentrate on her feet as much as possible when she's in a walking position, and if she still persists in skidding why simply tie the can to her and gently but firmly ease her out into the cold cruel world. We must carry out nature's laws, and in the survival of the fittest the skidders must bleed into the background.

A sudden thought that worries me is that perhaps some of her skidding may be due to the fact that she has discovered my private stock, although I don't see how she could unless you so far forgot yourself as to point it out to her and tell her to dust it or something of that sort. But I'd hate to think that any wife of mine ever forgot the use of her beam to that extent, so I'll just banish the thought and hope and pray that all is well.

Well, don't take any wooden money and don't give out too much of the regular kind. Kind love, JOE.

GREAT WESTERN power is power for progress

California is destined to take her place as an important manufacturing State. Sufficient power supplies for an ever-increasing number of factories will establish her industrial position.

But first, power must be developed. Factories follow. This is the hard-and-fast rule of progress. Manufacturers who must meet competition choose locations where operating expenses are least. Power is a big item in operation.

The Great Western Power Company is providing for the essential needs of that day when California comes into her own. Meeting the demands of the present with real and practical service to factories, homes, farms, mines and railways, Great Western is preparing for the future with clear-eyed and constructive vision.

It is Great Western's mission to hasten Central California's industrial destiny. Within the forthcoming year, Great Western will deliver additional power sufficient to furnish employment to 50,000 workers in factories devoted to new industries. Ultimately, 150,000 men—plus those on present payrolls—may avail themselves of employment through Great Western's expanding power system.

Present progress in electrical development in California foretells a future when home life, factory activities, production from farms and mines, and transportation economies will combine to set a nation-wide standard in the use of electrical power. Great Western Power Company gladly accepts its big responsibilities in supplying to Central California the essential sinews of power.

The RECTOR SYSTEM of GAS HEATING

What it is—

The RECTOR SYSTEM consists of a number of radiators connected to the gas supply and to a line of vacuum piping through which the vitiated air in the radiators, after it has given up its full quota of heat through radiation, is carried off and discharged outside the building through a proper vent or flue.

What it will do—

The RECTOR SYSTEM provides heat just when and where you want it with maximum satisfaction and at minimum cost. It is an economical system because your fuel consumption is limited to your actual heat requirements.

It operates as conveniently as your electric lights. You just PRESS THE BUTTON when you want a flood of clean, healthful heat.

me at Pasadena New Year's Day With State Is Causing Plenty of Chatter

By DOUG MONTELL
The football inactivity is about the most exasperating in the gridiron year, for it allows the players to relax after a season of the intercollegiate season, yet keeps the team waiting for the New Year's dish. To all appearances football season has disappeared, yet on going the rounds of the city, chatter hanging heavy on the air, not only among the fans, but everywhere else that football fans hold forth. The tale—there are to be no more intercollegiate games this week of the woods this year, yet all eyes are turned to Berkeley hills in watchful waiting to see what Andy Young with his nifty Bruin pack.

Brick Muller Will Be in the Lineup
One thing we are certain of, Brick Muller will be given an opportunity to shine at his best against the Bears. Forward passing is his long suit, likewise Brick's. Twice in the conference season Ohio State has won by the use of the forward pass. A matter of fact, the forward pass was won by a 25-yard forward pass, H. Workman to Myers in the fourth minute. High School High Lights

Coach Bob Hager's Junior Golds has started in earnest by bringing in the first basketball team of the season. Last week they took the Panthers 100-pound quintet into camp by the grand marooning add-up of the game. The Panthers, a dependent organization of high school boys, in this game the "X" lads donned their new outfits that they are to wear on the eastern trip during the Christmas school vacation. The local M. C. A. fitted their crack team with basketball jerseys, blue with a gold oblong O. Y. on the front; heavy blue V-necked sweaters with gold piping; and white socks with gold stripes. The team is coached by Coach Hager, who is a former player of the Junior Golds. The old-time Golds are not in existence any more so the boys hope to step into their shoes, although a little under the weight of the famous machine of Hager's time.

DALTON IS CONFIDENT Good Show Tomorrow Night NEW LEAGUE TO OPEN

By BOB SHAND
"They named this bird Dalton right when they called him Steve," said Broadway to his little playmates as he bought a stack of chips. "What a mean—name him right?" asked the ringsider. "Never thought that would have been too deep for even such a feeble understanding as yours," chirped Bill. "Mayhap you have heard of the famous Steve Brodie, the Hero of Brooklyn Bridge? Steve Dalton is taking some chance tomorrow night when he hooks up with Battling Ortega at the auditorium."

He bet they would all be draws and he collected ninety per cent of his wagers. "I know it will be a clever exhibition of boxing even if it is harmless," said when Frankie Burns and Dave Shade had been paired off again. Last time they met Frankie looked to have something easy for about three rounds, then the docile Shade imagined he was a wild animal.

Ortega Admits That Dalton Is Tough One
The Battling might the dickens after the last fight. Simpson told him he was a tramp to let Dalton stick four rounds and Tommy even baited him into believing he was going to send telegrams to all the eastern sportsmen telling them that Dalton nearly got a draw. "I met Ortega a couple of days after the fight and got to kidding him about his fight," said Pat. "I tried hard enough," said Pat. "But he is a dead tough nut. I hit him right on the point of his chin and the darned fool wouldn't go down. The other forty times I aimed for the point of his chin and he wouldn't go down. When I met him again he won't get started for I will be on him when the cone sounds and I won't let up until he is on his back. I don't let anybody bull you that Dalton isn't tough. He is as game as a chicken and he knows it. He can take me both on the chin and in the stomach without going down. Watch me step this time, though."

Steve Says Bat Cannot Hurt Him
"They tell me Dalton says Ortega can't hurt him," said the Galleries. After their last fight he was sore all over and said he would never meet the Battling again, but they kidded him into believing that he could stop the coach. After the fight he was a good night's sleep Steve awoke to find that no bones were broken and he said he would never meet the Battling again, but they kidded him into believing that he could stop the coach. Team Mates Will Give Blood to Save Gipp's Life

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 7.—Team mates of George Gipp, a famous Notre Dame football player, planned today to give their blood in the hope of saving the life of Gipp, who has been critically ill here for the past two weeks. He and his team mates, Jimmie Wilson, who played with Gipp, had their blood tested yesterday for transfusion into Gipp's body. Gipp has shown no improvement since Saturday, physicians said today, and it is feared that he can not continue the fight much longer. Departure of the Notre Dame for the coast is contingent upon Gipp's recovery.

GOSSIP of GOLFERS

By W. D. McNICOLL
At Claremont last Saturday afternoon, John Black and his partner, A. Moore, defeated Jim Smith and Park Wilson. Wilson was driving a long ball from the tees, forcing the visiting pair to play the famous Sand and the Holes. Across the greens, which are at present in rather poor condition, Jim showed some of his best golfing. Wilson, the best player at most of the holes, was expected under prevailing conditions. At Mount Diablo a start has been made on the new 18-hole championship course. Grading was proceeding satisfactorily until the present rain set in, making it impossible to work until more favorable conditions prevail. William Watson, who is superintending the laying out of this much-needed addition to Oakland's golf course, is making a good job of it. Insistent demand for new golf courses, finds his time fully occupied between the two projects. The picturesque Berkeley course and his newest creation at Mount Diablo.

Watson, who hails from Fifehire, Scotland, surrounded as he was by the famous San Francisco golfers, Berwick and Gullane links, has innumerable memories of world famous golf courses. He is successful in duplicating on Berkeley and Mount Diablo links.

For the convenience of members, at Mount Diablo, who do not care to play on the links, a new indoor net, with an ingenious scheme of pocket arrangement, has been installed, whereby good ball players can practice their strokes, without the inconvenience of the outdoor links.

The Ladies' Tournament Committee of the Sequoyia Club have decided to postpone their December tournament till after Xmas.

The Claremont lady members will hold their regular invitational tournament over the holes means play tomorrow, when a large entry is expected. These semi-social events are most desirable in club circles and create a good sporting feeling.

BEST OUTFIELDER IN COAST LEAGUE LAST YEAR GOES UP AGAIN

Jimmy O'Connell Is Being Groomed to Hold Down First Base for Seals Next Season

By EDDIE MURPHY
Charley Graham, manager of the San Francisco Seals, probably talked a little too soon about George Maisel becoming a Seal for the 1921 season and the result may be that the Portland Beaver's best fly chaser of last season will be sporting a uniform of the New York Giants in the National league. According to a dispatch from Portland this morning, Manager Walter McCredie of the Beavers has announced that the Giants are after Maisel and that a deal which will send George to the majors next season is practically completed, as Maisel himself has been given permission by McCredie to talk business with the Giants. Such an announcement from McCredie makes it look like some one on the other side of the bay accepted a hint that Graham gave that the Seals might have Maisel, or Graham himself released the news too soon.

Last Friday the news was sprung that Maisel would be turned over to the Seals from the Detroit Tigers in part payment for the delivery of Bert (Smiles) Cole. But Maisel's announcement makes it look like the northern manager still has a string on George. Maisel has made a couple of trips to the major leagues and was turned back without being given a fair trial, and it certainly wouldn't be fair to him again. O'Connell's announcement makes it look like the northern manager still has a string on George. Hasbrook May Have to Fight O'Connell for Job
Will Hasbrook be the first sacker for the Seals next season? Those who know the Seals say that Hasbrook will not get the regular first sacker if Jimmy O'Connell is given the proper chance around the first base. Hasbrook is a fast runner and a utility player. When Phil Koerner quit the club, Jimmy was played at first base until the arrival of Hasbrook. Jimmy covered the bag like a champion. Jimmy played first base in one game against the Seattle Rainiers at Seattle and almost every member of that club wondered why Graham was looking for a first sacker while the club was able to get around on two legs. Jimmy was not a mushy basemen by any means, but he looked mighty sweet around that first bag which is not his regular position. He was a bit overrated at the start of the season, but still he was one of the best prospects to break into the coast league in many seasons, and there are many who now think that Graham made a big mistake in not keeping the young fellow in the line-up regularly. It was claimed that Hasbrook was not the handling type of ball player, but there are umpires in the league who will say that Jimmy can make more noise and put up a stronger argument over a decision than can a lot of old timers. Also Jimmy was seldom given a tumble when he played in the first or third on infield hits or infield outs. It takes a hustling player to score the runs and always have his head up when on the base and that is just what the kid did last season. Umpires Byron or Anderson will tell you that Hasbrook lost several games because of his awkward way of handling his feet around first base and thus to the credit of the Seals, O'Connell may be given the chance to land the job. They will never give it to Hasbrook.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Dec. 7.—Gibbons of St. Paul outpointed Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis in eight rounds of their ten-round bout last night according to the opinion of men at the ringside. The other four rounds were even. Wiggins was cut about the nose and was bleeding profusely at the end. Gibbons fought the fighting throughout. The men are light heavyweights.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 7.—Eddie Shannon of Portland, Ore., was given the newspaper decision over Jack Lawlor of Omaha, in an eight-round bout last night. "They are lightweights."

The union suits for fussy folks

Richmond Union Suits are made for men who are particular to the utmost degree. Richmonds contain every refinement that 20 years of underwear manufacturing has been able to devise. No bunching or wrinkling when you sit. No straining when you exercise, just a grateful feeling of absolute comfort.

You'll like Richmond Union Suits better than any you ever put on before.

The seat wings on Richmond Union Suits are wide-hemmed so that the flaps will lie perfectly flat. You know what this means as compared to the kind that curl up and form a wad.

This is only one of eight exclusive Richmond features. Ask the salesman to show you the other seven.

HEAVINESS IN STOCK MARKET LOWERS PRICES

Speculative heftiness, particularly the chemical group, contributed to the lower trend of prices at the opening of today's stock market. American Agricultural Chemicals, yesterday's heaviest feature, registered an early loss of 20 points, and market international, American Woolen and Royal Dutch lost one point. Domestic and foreign stocks were firm to strong.

Steels, rails, equipments and motors of mechanical character, however, were on London continued to weaken, breaking 1 1/2 under yesterday's close.

A seven point reaction in Mexican Petroleum and a twelve point loss in Willys-Overland preferred probed today's heaviest reaction in the last hour, with variable recoveries at the close. Sales of approximately 100,000 shares.

NAVY BASE SITE
CHOICE EXPECTED
FRIDAY BY C. OF C.Annual Election of Officers of Body Will Be Held Tomorrow

Definite word on the naval base site is expected to be announced at the annual membership meeting of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce next Friday.

Information received today from Washington by officials of the Chamber of Commerce indicated that the congressional commission may make known its decision on that date. Arrangements have been made to have the result flashed so that it may be given out at the luncheon in connection with the reading of the annual report by Joseph E. Caine, managing director.

The election of directors will be held tomorrow at the chamber floor from 9 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the evening. So great appears the interest that a number of members have sent in their votes by mail. Unfortunately this is not allowed under the bylaws of the organization.

Several directors are to be elected to succeed O. H. Fischer, W. W. Johnson, Dr. J. L. Foote, George H. Shelden, R. H. Marchant, C. E. Thatcher and James Travers. The candidates are:

Archibald Andrew, H. C. Capwell, J. W. Force, Joseph H. King, J. B. Miller, William Harold Oliver, H. H. Pendleton, J. W. Phillips, Harrison S. Robinson and J. L. Slater.

Retail Shoe Clerks

Brennan, T. C. Brougham and H. W. Roemer; delegates to the Labor Council, E. P. Brougham, Frank Bauer and J. P. Griffin; delegate to the Bay Cities Federation of Retail Clerks, E. J. Brennan.

Yuletide Festivity Will Be Furnished for Unfortunates

Who will help make happy this tiny patient at Arroyo Sanitarium on Christmas Day?

County Hospital's Christmas Committee Prepares for Celebrations

In Arroyo sanitarium there are twenty-five little children suffering from some form of tuberculosis. There are 110 men and women who are victims of white plague. They are all looking forward to Christmas. In the Alameda county hospital are several hundred people for whom county taxes do not provide any holiday festivity.

The county hospital's Christmas committee, as representatives of the public, have become sponsors for the Yuletide celebrations at the institutions near Livermore and San Leandro. The members have begun to roll up a treasury which will give Christmas gifts to every patient and inmate, sweets and fruits, and perhaps a Christmas gift, to each individual as well.

The big holiday parties require a big budget even after it has been carefully pruned and readjusted. E. P. Garrison, county auditor and treasurer of the Alameda County Hospitals Federation, Hall of Records, is taking care of any gifts which may be mailed to the holiday

TWO ARE INJURED IN EASTBAY IN
AUTO ACCIDENTSSeattle Capitalist Seriously Hurt When Run Down By Berkeley Driver

Two were injured in the last 24 hours by automobiles in the Eastbay region.

C. W. Gurnea, 51, of 5833 San Pablo avenue, was taken to the Emergency Hospital today suffering from cuts and bruises after he had been struck near his home. His condition is not serious. W. F. McGuire, 8210 Barker street, picked up the injured man.

William T. Springer, 50, of Seattle, is in a serious condition as a result of being struck by an automobile driven by Charles H. Hunt of the McKinley Court apartment in Berkeley. Springer was hit near the Southern Pacific's Shattuck avenue station, Berkeley. He has concussion of the brain and possible internal hurts. He was guest at the Hotel Whitecotton and is president of the Central Alaska Fisheries. He is being cared for at the Berkeley Emergency Hospital.

In San Francisco a near serious accident occurred when a ferry-bound Sutter car struck a Stockton street car, with the result that six automobiles were put out of commission and both started down grade toward Market street. With conductors assisting, passengers were dropped off the rolling cars which sideswiped four automobiles as they went, driving one into a pole and demolishing it. The cars rolled into Market street miraculously missing other traffic again collided and finally stopped. None was injured.

Street Men Discuss
Auto Parking Law

The regular Tuesday morning gathering of heads and sub-heads in the street department was held this morning in the offices of Superintendent George Mattis.

As the new downtown traffic ordinance is about to become law, this was one of the matters up for discussion.

The newest subscriptions to be received to the Yuletide parties are: Joseph H. King, $10; William Cavaller, $10; Dr. E. P. Emerson, Centerville, $5. A moving picture machine was given to Arroyo in 1918, followed by the gift of a pianola last year from the Christmas committee, in addition to all of the personal remembrances.

Huber Refuses to Testify; Council Thrown into Confusion; Case to Be Threshed Out in Courts

The city council trial of Mayor Harry Huber of the civil service board, broke up last night when Huber, on the advice of Attorney Fred Meliman, refused to testify and the case was halted pending contempt proceedings before the Superior court. The council trial of Huber was set over (all two weeks from tonight). In the meantime, it is expected, a ruling on the contempt proceedings will be given.

City Attorney Hagan asserted he would start the court proceedings immediately.

"Besides," he said, "we want to have a ruling on the city's jurisdiction in such cases, once and for all."

The hearing yesterday evening was as tumultuous as the morning session. It started with a resolution by the council placing the case into a specific charge of misconduct, rather than on any of the other charges under which a civil service commissioner may be removed. The vote was 3 to 2. Mayor Davis and Commissioner Dacus voting against the resolution. The same vote prevailed through the whole session.

This session opened when Hagan asked that Huber be sworn.

"I decline to be sworn for the prosecution," said Meliman. "Under Section 71 of the charter, Mayor Huber is here of his own volition. To call him to the stand constitutes an attempt by the prosecution to prove its allegations out of the mouth of the accused."

"I did not say he was to testify for the prosecution," said Hagan. "He is to be sworn to testify in this case."

Sailboats on Lake Merritt
Wrecked by Poor Sailors

Whatever may be the numerous virtues of Oakland's citizens, they rank shamefully low as sailors and navigators in the opinion of the old salts at the municipal boat house, where the plan to install more sailboats on Lake Merritt is not receiving much enthusiasm.

In a report to Jay Nash, head of the Playground Commission, it is charged that there is only about one sailor in every ten who skip before the wind on Lake Merritt.

The other nine either turn their boats over in gusts of wind or lack the skill to come about at the other end of the lake, causing their boats to crash into the stone walls. It is complained that the stone walls are now being severely damaged by sailboats which insist on trying to push the wall back a few feet with their bows.

For every dollar taken in for the rental of sailboats, it is alleged, some $5 have to be spent in repairs. It is intimated that if the lake has more sailboats there will have to be a larger appropriation than usual to keep 'em going.

Apparently, said Nash, "sailboats are pretty on the lake and would be lucrative if Oakland's population knew how to sail. We'll either have to educate the population or cut down the sailboats, and the latter seems the smaller and easier task."

Another step in the determined effort which is being made to exterminate the wave of lawlessness which has terrorized residents of East Oakland, has been taken by the Diamond Improvement Association.

At a meeting at the association hall at Fruitvale avenue and Hopkins street, on suggestion of Ernest Engler, president, it was voted to form a vigilance committee of 100 which will, in turn, organize the district. Another meeting will be held tomorrow night, but already the new patrol has started.

It is the plan to place a captain and two lieutenants in each two blocks. Police whistles will be distributed and alarm agreed upon. In addition patrols will be posted and, probably, some special officers engaged.

The result will be that an alarm will, within a few minutes, arouse whole districts and trap the marauders who may be abroad.

A special committee now in charge of the organization is composed of Professor W. E. Gibson, Daniel S. McCarthy, James McIntyre, Andrew Gambrell, Thomas Farrell, Charles Stevens and James Anderson.

Merlo Aimed at Hat;
Hit Giorgi's Brain

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Police have closed the circle on the mysterious California Cafe slaying at 514 Broadway early Sunday morning. Armasia Giorgi, street car man, was the victim. Andrew Merlo, one of Giorgi's two companions in the restaurant confessed, police say, that he shot Giorgi. Merlo said all three were drinking and in "fun" he aimed at Giorgi to shoot his hat off. The bullet, a small calibre, hit the car man at the base of the brain.

DIAMOND RESIDENTS
PLAN VIGILANTES

Another step in the determined effort which is being made to exterminate the wave of lawlessness which has terrorized residents of East Oakland, has been taken by the Diamond Improvement Association. At a meeting at the association hall at Fruitvale avenue and Hopkins street, on suggestion of Ernest Engler, president, it was voted to form a vigilance committee of 100 which will, in turn, organize the district. Another meeting will be held tomorrow night, but already the new patrol has started. It is the plan to place a captain and two lieutenants in each two blocks. Police whistles will be distributed and alarm agreed upon. In addition patrols will be posted and, man. "He's in," said Hagan. "I'm not asking you. I'm asking the mayor."

"He's out," ruled Mayor Davis. "In withdrawing on the question of Huber's guilt or innocence," said Morse, "I would be in a position of declining to prosecute, but as a member of the council I will be obliged to vote on any matter before the council."

APPEAL TO COURTS

The resolution that Huber take the stand was adopted by a 3-2 vote. Morse voted in spite of the ruling by the mayor.

"Major Huber again declines to testify," said Meliman. "There's nothing further before this council now. We'll take the matter into the courts and see about it."

"We cannot come again," said Meliman. "We have been here six times due to constant postponements by this council."

"I would like to inquire," asked Morse, "what influence you or Huber users to postpone this case through a lack of a full quorum?"

"Does the commissioner insinuate anything?" asked Meliman.

"You are at liberty to make any construction you choose," said Morse. "Take it down," said Meliman.

"You are aware there has not been a full council," said Morse.

"Yes. But as for the question you insinuated, I want to say very directly we have at no time approached or requested any member of this council to do anything."

"Thank you," said Morse. The meeting then ended.

Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Williams, who are at present in this city en route to India, will be entertained at an informal reception and social, following the concluding of the program. Mr. Hildreth will speak briefly on missionary work during the evening.

All Goats Promptly

The gift supreme:
a Duo-Art piano

A Duo-Art pianola piano embodies the genius of the world's greatest pianists. A Duo-Art will reproduce the very playing of Paderewski himself. It will reproduce Cortot, Nellis, Hofmann, Granger, Bauer, Leginska, Ganz—and practically all the other masters.

This marvelous creation of The Aeolian Company comes incorporated in any one of the following pianofortes: the Stroud, Wheelock, Steck, Weber, and the immortal Steinway.

Such a piano may still be played by hand, or it will play any 88-note player roll.

But mark this distinction:

A Duo-Art will also reproduce, in your own home, the very playing of the great masters.

Ignace Paderewski proclaimed, upon signing the contract for making such reproducing rolls exclusively for the Duo-Art:

"I shall be glad indeed to have my playing reproduced with such manifest fidelity!"

Duo-Art pianos, foot-impelled, are priced from $945. Electrically operated, from $1300. Each, in its class, is a supreme accomplishment of piano manufacture. Each, at its price, represents the supreme musical gift of the Christmas season.

A suggestion: Ask to hear Alfred Cortot play List's "Rhapsodic Hongroise" (No. 11).
